Danger area is repaired

A landslide crisis which threatened homes on Lynvale court and Skyline drive in Daly City was averted this week by action from the Daly City engineering department.

City Engineer William Chapman ordered trucks and bulldozers into action to fill a large gaping hole on the Old Coast Highway.

The slide had broken a drain pipe and drain water had cut into the slope, threatening further slides if a rainstorm occurred.

Four residents were told last Friday to evacuate their homes if it rained. The homes threatened included D. L. Lerer, 84 Lynvale court; Dr. H. R. Rosen, 1 Skyline, and L. J. Vercelli, 10 Skyline.

Road maintenance

Edward Frank, city manager, said in a letter to the Division of Highways, the principal cause of the landslide was "failure of maintenance of the Old Coast Highway."

The city requested immediate attention to this situation.

Chapman wrote the Division of Highways. He said "Some time ago the Division of Highways ceased maintaining the Old Coast Road. Because of lack of maintenance, catch basins have been plugged up with a resulting overflow of water onto the highway, which in turn, lubricates potential slide planes and causes landslides."

"These landslides have now progressed to a point where all the homes at the extreme north end of Skyline drive and the extreme west end of Lynvale Court are now threatened by future extensions of these landslides."

The giant hole

The method taken to plug the giant hole caused by the landslide was against the wishes of the State Division of Parks and Beaches. The slide area is in Thornton Beach.

Engineer Chapman said the Parks department had requested the city move bulldozers up to the slide area from the beach. The city said they could not move equipment up the steep gulley caused by the slide.

Chapman said he was told to get written permission to fill the gulley. After contacting Sacramento he was asked for detailed construction plans.

"We wanted to start work that afternoon," Chapman stated.

Four day wait

The city waited four days for a decision from the Parks Department.

The city was prepared to begin work to fill the gulley Nov. 26, but was told they had no permission to build a new pipeline through the park and should rebuild the pipeline through the gulley. But Chapman said he felt the city should rebuild the pipeline in a place where the land was not sliding.

The Parks Department also did not want the city to work on the slide from above, but requested they work up from the beach.

Chapman, faced with the situation of the slope giving way if it rained, took action to fill the gulley and relocate the pipeline.

LANDSLIDE—Aerial view of recent landslide at Thornton Beach shows big gash in cliff above Skyline drive in Daly City. Engineers were busy filling up the slide this week to avert another landslide which threatened homes on cliff above. The slide tore out a large section of the Old Coast Road and washed out a storm drain, causing an erosion problem. Four homes were threatened.

New elem. board member

George Perry of St. Francis Heights was nominated and sworn in to fill a vacancy on the Jefferson Elementary School District Board of Trustees Monday.

A member of the Daly City-Colma Democratic Club, Perry has participated in Ben Franklin and Daniel Webster PTA work. He is employed in the claims and safety department of Pacific Gas and Electric Company and has a son, 14, who is a sophomore at Westmoor High and daughter, 10, in the sixth grade at Daniel Webster School.

Perry was selected from among eight candidates for the position vacated by Dr. Donald R. Calvert who resigned Oct. 15.

Objection

His seating was made over the protest of Mrs. Katherine R. Mullen who voiced her objections to the manner of selection.

Mrs. Mullen lodged her disapproval of the form used to qualify candidates and the method of rating a prospective board member.

Not against Perry

In a prepared statement, Mrs. Mullen said, "This vote is not against the citizen who has been appointed, because I do not know him or know anything about him except what we learned in our interview."

She explained further, "I questioned the rating form (used to select the candidate) and the manner in which it was proposed to be used."

"The person receiving the lowest score was the person to be appointed."

(In scoring candidates, the most superior rated a "1" and the lowest, "5.")

Mrs. Mullen went on, "This board has used a 'gentleman's agreement' in important matters by discussing the matter and arriving at a unanimous decision. (In this instance, this was not done.)"

She concluded, "I believe that this board did not do objective voting."

"I want this board and the public to know that I do not believe in what we have just done, in principal, and I believe that it is a compromise on our integrity."

Rating

Candidates for the vacancy on the board were selected from citizens who told the board they wanted to serve as a trustee.

Candidates were interviewed by board members and rated in three categories: general impression, alertness, comprehension, ability to present ideas, and experience.

Board members weighted their impressions using a guide that gave a score of "1" for superior; "2" for well

Hospital fund named as Kennedy memorial

Like the rest of the world, people in Pacifica were stunned at the news of the assassination of the President. Disbelief, hurt and anger soon were replaced by feelings of "what can we do?" The Kennedy family had wished that no flowers be sent, but that equivalent gifts to charity would be appropriate.

Hundreds of individuals in North San Mateo County had recently worked to collect money for the Mary's Help Hospital being built in Daly City. The building fund quota has not yet been met. It seemed particularly appropriate, then, to establish a John F. Kennedy Memorial Fund for Mary's Help Hospital. Contributions may be made in the name of the late President to: the John F. Kennedy Memorial Fund for Mary's Help Hospital, P.O. Box 1275, Pacifica, California. Every contributor, including a school child with pennies, will have his or her name inscribed on a memorial scroll to be sent to the President's widow.

Although the idea for the memorial originated with the Pacifica Democratic Club, their president, Ken Strom, emphasized that this is a non-partisan memorial to the late President. Bi-partisan members of the sponsoring committee, headed by Ken Strom, are Neil Tremaine, Pacifica Chief of Police; Councilwoman Jean Fassler, City Manager Karl Baldwin, Planning Commissioner Al Rosenberg, civic leader Mrs. Doris Eisan, former Linda Mar Merchants Association President Larry Kennedy, Pharmacist Stan Farber, and Publisher William Drake.

Gene Hoffman, representative of the Mary's Help Hospital, was told of the memorial and said he was "enormously touched." He said this effort is particularly appropriate because of President Kennedy's great interest in the nations' health, that one of his last acts before leaving Washington for Texas, was the signing of appropriation bills increasing funds to be expended in the field of public health.

Cadet award

John L. Pothier, 150 Coronado, Daly City, is among four University of Cincinnati seniors presented Distinguished Air Force Reserve Officers' Training Corps cadet awards for outstanding ability, initiative and other leadership qualities.

Santa Claus drive begins in Daly City

"Operation Santa Claus," founded as a community project in 1951, to channel the generosity of all of Daly City's citizens and organizations to those in need at Christmas, begins its thirteenth annual drive for donations of cash, food, toys and clothing for distribution to local families.

The objective is to make certain no deserving family is overlooked at Christmas, and to eliminate duplication and waste by coordination of the efforts of all men of good will.

Last year "Operation Santa Claus" established a record in taking care of 94 deserving needy families, in which there were 396 children. This year's preliminary list already has 70 families, with over 300 children, and it is expected that last year's record will be surpassed.

Donations of food, toys, and clothing are to be sent to Daly City Central Fire Station, 157 Lake Merced Boulevard.

Cash donations are to be sent to Mr. Peter J. Markovich, "Operation Santa Claus," 6454 Mission St.

Co-Chairmen Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy and Peter J. Markovich stress that this community effort is deserving of the support of all citizens. The joys of Christmas can be brought to less-fortunate families in our midst by the donations, large or small, of everyone in this area.

Last year, 22 organizations, religious, service, PTA Scouts participated, plus many individuals.

'Defacto segregation' controversy

Controversy over a proposed elementary school board "bussing policy" continued Monday during the meeting of the Jefferson Elementary School District Board of Trustees.

Further discussion and action was tabled until Dec. 16.

The proposed policy — originally introduced by Trustee O. Wayne Douglas to establish a guide on transporting youngsters disrupted from neighborhoods by lack of school classroom space—has aroused protest over an interpreted implication of "de facto segregation."

Douglas's proposal, board policy number 5117, says in part, ". . . because of the unavailability of certain classroom space, it may be necessary, from time to time, to assign or transport pupils from the school nearest their home to another farther removed . . ."

"It is the express policy of this board that any such move shall be made so as to disrupt, as little as possible, the educational, emotional and psychological development of each pupil, and to keep to a minimum the inconvenience occasioned to the family . . ."

Controversy

Controversy has been aroused by board members and citizens over the introductory words, "The board does not favor transporting pupils as a method of eliminating ethnic, cultural, racial or religious distinctions."

"Nor does the board approve the gerrymandering of school districts in order to emphasize such distinctions."

Protest

Larry Freiberg, 30 Village Lane, a citizen who opposed adopting the policy at the last board meeting, opposed the statement again Monday night.

He said, ". . . this policy is in direct conflict with the State Board of Education policy and with the California Supreme Court decision in the Pasadena School District case (on segregation)—that it would tend to perpetuate rather than eliminate de facto school segregation in our district."

Later, "I specifically object to proposed Policy 5117 because it makes bussing the main issue."

At this point, Freiberg referred to the introduction.

De facto segregation

Freiberg expressed the opinion, "Neither attendance areas nor bussing is the main issue."

"The real question," he said, ". . . is whether or not the board is willing to tackle the problem of de facto segregation locally."

"Many people do not realize, or do not believe, that our schools are segregated here.

And later, "Because of . . . residential barriers to integration and because of the historical development of attendance areas in our school district, our . . . schools . . . reflect the effect of these patterns."

He added, "I think the time has come for the school board and for the citizens of the district to look at the situation and make a realistic appraisal and study of the facts.

Recommendation

Freiberg suggested, ". . . The State Department of Education has an expert in this field, Wilson Riles, who is available for consultation, and a statewide citizens panel is now being formed to work with him."

Other voices

Mrs. Gladys Moss, a citizen, told the board that the proposed policy was "in direct violation of state policy numbers 2010 and 2011" having to do with segregation and emphasized that the board should not adopt the proposal.

She recommended a more positive study.

Mrs. Everett Mason, past president of the Woodrow Wilson PTA, noted that the issue of bussing was not an issue of Woodrow Wilson parents.

"We want a 4th, 5th and 6th grade school in the area of Woodrow Wilson . . . to keep families together and kids in the neighborhood."

Woodrow Wilson School is a kindergarten through third grade school.

Hospital drive to continue

"Despite the holidays, as a tribute and memorial to our martyred President, John F. Kennedy, we should redouble our efforts to collect Daly City's quota of funds necessary to complete Mary's Help Hospital as a 400-bed facility."

Such was the substance of an informal agreement reached by leaders of the three-pronged drive which has been under way in this community. Daly City will be the new home of Mary's Help Hospital, now already 20 per cent completed on an 11-acre hilltop west of Junipero Serra Blvd. adjacent to St. Francis Heights and Westlake.

"Because of the pressure of time on everyone, we have called off our weekly 'report meetings' until after New Year's," explained Frank Curry, overall chairman under Judge George B. Harris. Curry continued, "But this doesn't mean any letup in solocitation for those who have the time; nor should it prevent anyone who has been overlooked in the drive from volunteering his cash contribution or pledge card."

The Campaign Headquarters at 95 South Mayfair (west wing of building housing Temple Judea) will be open daily, Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Here donors may call in person or mail their contributions. P.O. Box is 3145.

"Christmas is a time of giving," commented Mrs. Frank Burns, president of the Women's Club of Our Lady of Mercy Parish, and chairman of the house-to-house drive in Westlake. "In tribute to our late beloved President, whose family requested 'donations to

Post office Yule hours scheduled

During the coming Christmas season, stations of the Daly City post office will maintain special service hours from Dec. 9 through Dec. 24, Postmaster Vincent P. Murphy of Daly City announced today.

Murphy listed the following scheduled hours of service: Daily from Dec. 9—Main Office and Colma Stations from 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.; Westlake Station from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturdays — Dec. 14, all stations from 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Dec. 21, Main Office and Colma Stations from 8 a.m. to 12.30 p.m.; Westlake Station from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Sundays—Dec. 15, Main Office from 12 noon to 4 p.m. with Colma Station closed; Westlake Station from 12 noon to 4 p.m. Dec. 22, Main Office and Colma Stations will be closed with Westlake Station open from 12 noon to 4 p.m. On Christmas Eve, all stations will close at 1 p.m.

The following helpful hints on how to mail your Christmas cards and gifts to insure prompt delivery prior to Christmas were offered by Murphy. Use 5-cent postage on your Christmas cards and insert ZIP code numbers. Personal messages may thus be included on Christmas cards whereas with 4-cent postage, only a signature may be included.

Avoid careless packing of your gifts. Use strong cartons and wrap in heavy paper and tie with sturdy cord. Place an extra label showing your return address and the full address of the addressee inside the parcel so that in the event of loss of the outside label the article will be properly forwarded or returned.

Postmaster Murphy reminded his patrons that they should make every effort to shop and mail early.

No major rains seen

According to the U.S. Weather Bureau in the San Francisco area, no major precipitation is expected this week.

A high-pressure ridge located in the intermountain and plateau area of the Western United States (roughly, the Salt Lake area) has kept storms forming in the Pacific Ocean from the coast and the inland far west.

The ridge has deflected storms to the northeast into Canada.

Narcotic arrest

Ronald Paul Eschenauer, 24, of Los Altos, was arrested Nov. 26 in Daly City on charges of possession of narcotics. He was released on $1,000 bail.

Officer Charles Terry said the charges stemmed from a casuality call Oct. 31 at a garage at 7011 Mission street. Police found Eschenauer lying unconscious on the floor. His girl friend nearby told police he took an overdose of Demerol, a narcotic drug. She produced a hyperdermic needle. A bottle of Demerol was found in a bathroom.

Officers sent the fluid to be analyzed. A report was sent to the District Attorney's office and a warrant was issued.

Bond issue Ok'd for north county campus

A bond issue has been approved by the San Mateo Junior College District Board of Trustees as the method of providing funds for initial construction of the north campus near Daly City.

The purchase of the North San Mateo County Junior College site was completed in January of 1959. The site, approximately 111 acres in area, lies along the south of Sharp Park Road and West of Skyline Boulevard.

Neither the amount of the bond issue nor the possible date of the election has been set, but the Board is expected to take action in the meeting of Dec. 11 to determine the amount and the time of the election.

Superintendent Julio Borolazzo stressed the bond issue's advantage in spreading the cost of the facilities over a twenty-five year period "because of the equity of expecting the generation which uses a facility to pay a portion of the capital costs."

The tentative program calls for construction of the initial units of the north campus for use in 1966, completion of south county site payments and the initial units of the south campus at least by 1967, purchase of a costside site, and completion of the expansion of the College heights Campus. The planning is based on projected enrollment figures which now indicate that a total of 10,000 day students can be expected by 1971.

Borolazzo said that because of the combined effort of population movement in San Mateo County and the "baby boom" following World War II, San Mateo County as a whole will experience a 580 per cent increase in the number of high school graduates between 1950 and 1970.

In the Jefferson Union High School District, for example, the number of high school graduates will more than triple, from 584 in 1960 to 1873 in 1971.

Bortolazzo said the college expects to receive one half million dollars in matching funds from the state for college construction. Also, funds are expected from the Proposition 1-A state college site bill, recently voted last November by the electorate, and the sale of the Delaware Campus for $2½ million.

College of San Mateo enrollment jumped from 4500 last year to a present enrollment of 5600 students. An enrollment of 7,000 is expected for next year.

A target date of 1966 has been set for the opening of the northern campus.

Leading to the site at the present time is a little-traveled road, re-named college drive. Within three years, North County students will travel this—and other direct routes—to the first classes on their own campus.

Other policies

Douglas proposed Monday night that his original 5117 be amended to include as an introduction, "In the establishment of school attendance areas and the assignment of pupils thereto, it is the policy of the board that everything possible shall be done to eliminate the segregation of children on the basis of ethnic, cultural, racial or religious distinctions."

". . . (these factors) shall be considered in the location of new schools and the establishment of school district attendance boundaries.

"But, the board does not favor transporting pupils as the solution to segregation in any form."

Then Douglas's proposal would continue with the statement "unavailability of classroom space."

Substitute

Mrs. Natherine Mullen has written a substitute policy which she intends to introduce at the next board meeting.

Her policy states, "This board is of the opinion that de facto school segregation is educationally unsound and harmful to all children as pupils and as future citizens of the community."

". . . this board will take, whenever necessary, all possible steps to prevent, eliminate or lessen the impact of any imbalance in the schools of the Jefferson District."

"This board is aware of the fact that most de facto school segregation is caused by residential segregation which in itself is not a school problem."

Action continued

The policy 5117 and its amendments, substitutes and discussion was tabled until the next Jefferson Elementary School District Board meeting Dec. 16.

bureau explain that weather maps have remained stagnant for some time and will likely remain so for another week or more.

This, they caution, is based on past patterns. The picture could change.

There has been, they add, some indication that the high-pressure ridge over Salt Lake, is flexing.

If so, and the ridge swings inland, there is a possibility that rain may come to Northern California from the northwest.

How this will affect Daly City—if at all—is not predictable at this time.

The weather bureau issues five-day forecasts every Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Library friends to hear Bishop Pike Dec. 13

Friends of the Daly City Library will be represented when the Rt. Rev. James A. Pike, Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of California, will address the forthcoming Trustees and Friends of Libraries luncheon in the Gold Ballroom of the Sheraton-Palace Hotel in San Francisco, Friday, Dec. 13. Bishop Pike's topic will be "The Freedom to Read." Following the 12:15 p.m. luncheon, a special panel will discuss ways and means of developing and strengthening Friends of Libraries groups throughout the state, including possible establishment of a Statewide Friends organization. Cost of a luncheon ticket will be $4.50.

San Francisco Library Commission and Bay Area Library Boards are in charge of hospitality for the luncheon mentioned, and Mrs. Andrew J. Hanselman and Mrs. U. R. Kendree of the Daly City Commission will be in charge of the Hospitality Room and guestbook. Friends of the D.C. Library will be represented by Mrs. Frank J. Specht, and Mrs. Julian Cohn and Mrs. Thomas Brewer will assist with the guest-book registration.

Hospital

charity' in his memory, let us redouble our efforts to the end that by Jan. 1, every family and business firm in Westlake and throughout Daly City will have given something, however much or little, to this so important hospital project," said Mrs. Burns.

Mrs. Dolores Leonard and Mr. George Perry of St. Francis Heights, who co-chairmaned a highly successful door-to-door canvas of residents of that area plus Westlake Knolls, under the auspices of Mary's Help Nurses Alumnae Association, announced that they and their "Walking Committee" would continue right through the holidays until they had made 400 "call-backs" at homes where they received no response on the original canvass.

"Our group solicited minimum pledges of $50 over a three-year period," said Mrs. Leonard, "and the idea of paying only $1.39 a month for 36 months seemed to appeal to those who might otherwise not have given anything at all. Many others, of course, gave a great deal more than minimum."

In the mail recently, the Daly City campaign headquarters received a letter from the South San Francisco High School, signed by Mrs. Charlotte Flecker, advisor for the Paramedical Club of the high school. The letter read in part:

"Saturday, Nov. 9, the Paramedical Club students held a car-wash for the benefit of Mary's Help Hospital Fund. A check in the amount of $20 is enclosed . . ."

These incidents reflect a wonderful spirit, said Gene Hoffman, manager of the Daly City campaign headquarters, but the fact remains that barely 10 per cent of the residents and business firms of the entire hospital service area have yet to give anything to this very necessary community project.

Avoid the rush

Registration urged

By Floyd F. McCue

The tragic changes in the national political picture have the best forecasters in the nation puzzled and it will be months before the full impact reaches the people in the form of the ballot.

The June primaary election may or may not set a record in voting, but County Clerk John A. Bruning's election-registration department is preparing for a probable new high. He predicted the total for San Mateo County would reach the 230,000 registration figure. The previous high was 226,899 for the general election in 1962 but went down to 189,000 due to names being dropped for not voting. With all the new people coming into the county, Bruning expects the registration to reach 250,000 by the November presidential election next year.

The entire county has been realigned and there are now 629 precincts as compared to 501 in 1962. However, only 617 voting boards will be set up next year. Twelve of the total precincts do not have any residents, being recently annexed tidelands or uninhabited mountain areas.

The change in supervisorial district boundaries has added to the problems of the department, election supervisor John Kiefer pointed out. In some areas there will be more "incumbent" central committee members on the ballot than there are offices to be filled, providing all file for re-election.

Kiefer pointed out that there would be a minimum of 40 different ballots for the primary election. The differences in boundary lines of the assembly and municipal court districts multiply the changes in ballots and supervisorial district lines govern central committee voting. Supervisors are elected county-wide so offer no problem. The fourth supervisorial district, William M. Werder's southern county area, will have the most precincts next year with 156. Supervisors T. Louis Chess' central district and Supervisors E. R. McDonald's second district are tied with 128 precincts. Then follows Supervisor Alvin S. Hatch's coastside district (which now includes Daly City) with 121, and Supervisor James V. Fitzgerald's first district with 96 precincts.

Kiefer urges all eligible voters to register as soon as possible to avoid the last-minute rush. The thousands of people who come in a few days before the deadline force the county to pay out thousands of dollars for extra help and this can be avoided by early registration.

January and February are "Register Now!" months. "If your affidavit of registration was cancelled for non-voting after the last general election, you have changed your residence or are a newcomer to the county, you must fill out a new registration affidavit," Keifer warns. "Do not put it off until too late. Register Now!"

Secret ballot

Balloting was secret.

Candidates' names were not announced, though individuals were permitted themselves to disclose their desire to serve if they wished, Superintendent Richard Foster told members of the audience attending Monday's board meeting.

Perry took his oath of board membership from Schools Superintendent Richard Foster after board president Thomas Noonan and members Joseph Lewkowitz and O. Wayne Douglas recorded affirmative votes.

He told board members, "To the extent I am able, I will give my services fully and fairly."

Mental health Assn. officers are named

The Mental Health Association of San Mateo County in their annual election of officers re-elected Ernest H. Norback, San Mateo attorney, as president. Mr. Norback is a resident of Menlo Park. Other officers elected to a second term were Mrs. James O. Price, Hillsborough, 1st vice-president, and John T. Enomoto, Redwood City, treasurer. Dr. Samuel R. Leavitt, Burlingame physician, will serve as 2nd vice-president and Mrs. Rolland Wick, South San Francisco, secretary. Continuing as members of the Executive Committee are Mrs. Frank I. Fuller, Menlo Park, and Raymond E. Morris, San Mateo.

Newly elected to the Board of Directors were Judge Frank W. Rose, Woodside, Daniel G. Minto, San Mateo, Dr. William L. Schwartz, San Mateo, and Mrs. Thomas Scruggs, Millbrae, incumbent president of the Auxiliary to Mental Health Programs.

THE LANDSLIDE — This is what it looked like after another section broke from the Old Coast Highway on Thornton Beach last week, endangering homes on the cliff above. Daly City engineers contracted to have the hole filled by trucking dirt from above and unloading in using bulldozers and loaders. A section of a 30-inch drain broke in the slide and fell down the gulley toward the beach.

EQUIPMENT in action to fill the gaping hole caused by landslide at Thornton Beach. This was the second landslide in recent months on the Old Coast Road which threatened homes and backyards of residents above.

Preventive program outlined

Map master plan for mental health center

A preventive community psychiatric program, envisioned by its designers as fulfilling the requirements of the most advanced mental health concepts, is the exciting prospect in store for North San Mateo County.

Preliminary plans for the North County Mental Health Center were discussed by the two men who carry the administrative responsibility for meeting the mental health needs of the county, Dr. H. D. Chope, Director of the Department of Public Health and Welfare, and Dr. Joseph J. Downing, Program Chief of the Department's Mental Health Services Division. Both of them stressed the preliminary nature of today's planning, citing administrative, operational and personnel challenges that must be met before the proposed new center can be opened.

"We have mapped an exciting master-plan for this new service. Having received the approval and support of the County Manager and the Board of Supervisors, the plan is now under review at the state level," Dr. Chope disclosed. Approval by the State Department of Mental Hygiene is an all - important requirement, since funds from the Short-Doyle state reimbursement act will finance a significant portion of this expansion in the county's community psychiatric program.

Location

"Beyond that, we have the difficult job of selecting professional and clerical staff and the not at all routine issue of choosing the most advantageous location for the new center," Dr. Chope added. "Assuming the master-plan receives the required state endorsement, funds will become available by Jan. 1. That's the date when recruitment of personnel can begin in earnest," he said.

Dr. Chope pointed out that the state's share of the cost of local programs was expanded by the last state Legislature. This means that all local mental health programs in California can be expected to compete for the limited number of highly-trained mental health professionals who will be available for an unprecedented number of new positions. "In this cimate, the local administrator faces a major challenge to maintain his current standards of job qualifications. We are going to move as rapidly as possible, but we don't intend to settle for personnel who might fall below the high standards that have made the San Mateo mental health program a model for the nation," Dr. Chope declared.

Serve Large Area

The county health and welfare director noted that creation of regional comprehensive mental health centers to serve strategic sectors of the county was recommended by the Psychiatric Section of the County Medical Society and the Mental Health Advisory Board, a seven-member body consisting of representatives from local government, the courts, medicine and psychiatry who review and suggest policy for the over-all mental health program of the county.

As pin-pointed by Dr. Chope, the area to be served by the proposed new center will include the cities of San Bruno, South San Francisco, Brisbane, Bayshore, Colma, Daly City and Pacifica. Current plans call for administrative integration of the existing Pacifica clinic into the new service, although the clinic itself will continue to be based in Pacifica.

According to the 1960 Census, the area to be served had a population of 148,789. "This population now approaches 170,000 due to extensive home developments, and a population ranging from 250,000 to 300,000 is expected by 1968," Dr. Chope said.

In outlining the character of the new center, Dr. Downing disclosed intensive studies were made to produce a program that will be among the most modern of its kind in the world. "In designing this advanced program, we consulted with experts from the State Department of Mental Hygiene, the Harvard School of Public Health and the National Institute of Mental Health (NIMH)," Dr. Downing revealed. "Through NIMH we have also discussed our plans with authorities from England, who supplied valuable information about local community psychiatric concepts now being tried in their country.

"In this North County region there is a definite sense of common social problems and common identity, and a growing pressure for preventive and remedial services," Dr. Downing said. "The issues of juvenile delinquency, family disorganization and break-up, alcoholism and severe mental illness are among the top priority problems to which the center will address itself. Its contribution will be made in cooperation and direct collaboration with Public Health Nursing, Adult and Juvenile Probation, Social Service, the schools, law enforcement agencies and local voluntary agencies."

In fact, Dr. Downing explained, the initial work of the new center will concentrate upon developing effective consultative relationships with all those now actively engaged in meeting the social and health needs of the North County region. "A major part of the program will be in mental health education and in working with mental health volunteers," he said. "The center can be expected to operate in close collaboration with physicians and the ministry, much as the central county program seeks to do."

Dr. Downing pointed out that this kind of comprehensive integration of the program into the total scope of existing social, educational, health and correctional activities is the heart of the community psychiatric concept for which the San Mateo County Mental Health Services is regarded as a model. "Only by backing up direct psychiatric services to the patient with a comprehensive range of preventive services, in which professionals in other fields play a collaborative role, can we expect to meet the total mental health needs of the community in any realistic manner. What we are aiming for in the North County, as well as our goal for the country as a whole, is a society-wide approach to the whole range of behavioral and character disorders that today's fast-moving world inflict upon all of us from time time. By using techniques of collaboration and consultation we can hopefully head off a significant number of psychiatric crises before they culminate in hospitalization and long-term therapy," Dr. Downing explained.

Children's book fair in Pacifica

Book Fair chairmen Mrs. Jackie Hernandez and Mrs. Mary Alexander have announced that Pacifica's first children's book fair will get off to a flying start with a proclamation read by the City Council Wednesday night. In an all-out effort to encourage reading, especially in our children, thousands of selected new books will be offered for sale in the Community Room of Linda Mar School for three days, beginning Thursday, Dec. 5, from 3 to 9 p.m., Friday from 3 to 9 p.m. and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. These books range from preschool to adult — from Dr. Seuss to Heloise's Hints for Homemakers, and what a wonderful world for reading and adventure in between. Prices start from 25c and up, with plenty of time for your holiday gift shopping.

Mrs. Shirley Majchrzak and the Pacifica Friends of the Libraries will supply refreshments while they host an autograph party in honor of Helene Schellenberg and her newly-published book "Song of the Ocean," a story of teenagers.

A book purchased at the Book Fair will help the libraries of Linda Mar School and the Pacifica community libraries. So follow the banner to Linda Mar School. Everyone is invited!

Assemblyman talks on fair housing, schools

Fair housing, schools and reclamation of the bay came in for discussion Friday when Assemblyman Leo J. Ryan met with Mayors and newspapermen of Northern San Mateo County at a luncheon in South San Francisco.

"I don't think we should have to go further with legislation," said Ryan referring to the Rumford bill on fair housing. "It covers the essentials in this field."

However, he continued, it is up to the people to make it work, for the alternative is more legislative problems, ghettos and statewide hate and fear. San Mateo County, he said, is well ahead of the problem at present, "but for how long if we do not conscientiously work on it."

Referring to the referendum being circulated by Realtor groups, Ryan said, "I would like to see them drop their plan and see what the people can do themselves . . . as a legislator I don't like to see the government move in, but the people do things voluntarily."

Take issue with Max Rafferty, state superintendent of public instruction, Ryan complimented him as an "able and eloquent spokesman on education, but charged "It is my consensus that Rafferty is running for Governor. . . . He should not use the schools as his platform, then say he is non-partisan.

"Education in California in general is better than most states, but there is still room for improvement," continued Ryan, who is vice-chairman of the Assembly committee on education. He spoke on several areas he felt that the system could be improved and said that he would introduce legislation at the next session based on the theory that the best teacher training is an apprentice system under master teachers.

The concern over the filling of the bay should be first taken up by local area groups and when a "master plan for the whole bay is reached, then the state should offer assistance to accomplish the plan, said Ryan.

Wrestling next on NPL sked

Prieto in state meet

Jefferson's cross country threat, Carlos Prieto, goes to Sacramento Saturday to compete with the best runners in the state.

Winners in the state meet will compete for national cross country honors with the best high school harriers in the United States.

Jefferson's cross country coach Norm Cady will go to the state capitol with Prieto.

NPL mat men wrestle in CSM invitational

Herb Hudson's defending Northern California champion College of San Mateo wrestlers including former Northern Peninsula Leaguers play their part in the week-long dedication ceremonies at College Heights by hesting the first annual CSM Invitational Wrestling Tournament Saturday.

Phil Quinten, 130 pounder; Sam Jones (177); and Alf Haerem (191) bolster the CSM forces. Quinton captured the NPL 127 pound title while campaigning at South San Francisco high while Haerem took SPAL 165 honors in both 1960 and 1961 at Sequoia. While at Terra Nova Jones earned runner-up North Coast honors in the 165 division.

Currently ahead of Jones for CSM's 177 spot in the tournament is John Payne from San Carlos. Don Randall (Carlmont) and Dan Smothers (Ravenswood) are battling for the 115 spot while Westmoor's Mark Clark who just finished cross country season, has taken over the 123 division.

Other tentative entries announced by Hudson: 137—Glenn Stenstrom (Westmoor), 147—Ted Cane (Aragon) or Hughes (Logan), 157 — Len Borg (Woodside), 167 — Steve Brownell (Ravenswood) or James Cockrum (Sequoia).

PAL Pirates win second trophy

The PAL Pirates made it two straight as they copped the Fifth Grade Touch Football championship. This on top of their baseball championship is quite a fetaher in the cap of Coach Jim Wyatt, the former athletic star from Poly High School in San Francisco.

They slipped into a perfect season this week as the Holy Angels Lions failed to field a team. Pirate power was led throughout the season by Lenny "Homerun" Yamron and the blazing speed of Jim McGill. Right behind the Pirates all season were the PAL Tigers. Giving Tiger Coach George Pedroni a real scare and making the Tigers really earn the second-place spot, the BYA Renegades proved they were one of the better teams in the league this week as they went down 6-0.

The BYA Blues made the OLPH Bugs work for a win this week. Bug scoring came on a 25-yard Barry Clark to Tim Denning pass and a 25-yard reverse with Brian Priemester carrying. Steve Holberg scored the conversion for the Bugs. Bugs 13, Blues 0.

A sudden death overtime was necessary to resolve the game between the PAL Cougars and the PAL Rams. The running of Kim Blake and Terry Hess and the pass catching of Dave Smith made the difference for the Cougars to take the 1-0 win.

In the Sixth Grade league, the Holy Angels Colts failed to field a full team and therefore had to forfeit to the PAL Eagles.

The OLPH Golds battled to a 12-6 win over the PAL Raiders. Mike Bender set up the first Gold touchdown with a 40-yard interception run. Roger De Virgilio carried over from the one. De Virgilio then hit Jack Kearney on a 40-yard touchdown pass.

Surprising everyone, the PAL Braves knocked off the PAL Vikings in the Seventh Grade league in a tremendous ball game. A pass interception by Paul Romer decided the issue. Bob Michaels, Joe Morch, Billy Meek and Dana Marcus made Coach Paul Campion real proud of their play.

Staying on top, the BYA Bender Roofing Cats clawed out a hard win over the OLPH Wildcats. Farrara, McGuigan, Ragland, Laterza and Abbott played oustanding ball. Abbott recovered a fumble in the end zone for the Cat's final score.

Steve Gudelj gave the OLPH Steamrollers a big win over the Holy Angels Giants. He first tossed a 55-yard TD pass to Stan Radiottis. Next he hit him on a two-yard TD strike. Gudelj finished up the scoring with a 50-yard sprint to pay dirt. Martin and Lofrano contributed their share to the OLPH win. Don Belluomini gave the Holy Angels Giants some great moments with some sparkling runs while Mark Ryan and Tom Van Aiken fought the good fight.

WESTMOOR WRESTLERS — Dan Hartman (right), 1962 heavyweight champ, and John Glebow take a grip in a practice match. Westmoor's coach, Bill Barr, and Jefferson's coach Joe McGrath are readying their men for the upcoming NPL wrestling season. League matches begin Jan. 10. Westmoor grapplers meet Aragon's this Friday at Aragon.

INSTRUCTION — Jefferson Wrestling Coach Joe McGrath watches for form, balance, grip, and technique during practice. Teams are being selected and trained for the 1963-1964 matches. Jeff meets Aragon mat men Dec. 11 followed by the NPL novice tournament at Westmoor Dec. 11 and 12.

Jeff and Westmoor grapplers warm up

The Northern Peninsula League sports spotlight moves this week from football to wrestling.

Westmoor's wrestling coach Bill Carr and Jefferson's Joe McGrath are already tuning up their grapplers in preparation for the 1963-1964 contests.

Westmoor turned out 130 men for the 13 weight classes and Jefferson listed 77.

Westmoor will meet Aragon High School this Friday at Aragon for their first preseason match and Aragon will travel to Jeff for their bout next week—Dec. 11.

13 Weights

The 13 classes range from 95 pounds through 191 pounds and beyond in the unlimited class.

Elimination bouts were completed at Westmoor last Wednesday.

The 13 weight classes, explains Carr, keep the boys matched within their weights.

Contestants weigh in before the bouts and must weigh up to their class.

Overweight sends them to the next higher class.

Big HS sport

Carr says high school wrestling has become big in the United States and on the northern peninsula within the last five years.

He points out that skill, strength, endurance and knowledge of the sport play an important part in what is the most ancient of contests.

Wrestling is perhaps 5,000 years old and reached its peak during the height of the Greek and Roman athletic period (about 900 B.C.).

The Greeks regarded the wrestler as one of the most honored of athletes second only to the discus thrower.

Schedule

Westmoor High School will host the NPL Novice Tournament Dec. 12 and 13.

A novice wrestler is one who had not won a first or second place in any previous match.

Last year's bouts included some 280 contests in the two days of the meeting.

The Westmoor and Jefferson teams have two pre-league bouts scheduled for December.

Westmoor men go against Mills High School Dec. 17 at Westmoor and San Mateo High School Dec. 20 at San Mateo.

Jefferson Indians meet Crestmoor at Jeff on the 18th and Burlingame on the 20th.

The Ramsmen grapple with Burlingame on Jan. 7 prior to their first NPL contest with Terra Nova on the 10th.

Joe McGrath's men will square off at South San Francisco Jan. 10 in their first league match.

The Indians then bout with Talmapais on the 14th of Jan. and Serra on the 22nd.

The first shipment of flour ever to reach San Francisco was brought into the harbor in 1848.

Indians take 5th in NC run

It's SPARE TIME

at the Westlake Bowl

By Jim Grealish

The 1963-64 News Call-Bulletin Christmas Singles Classic is off to a flying start as a large squad took to the lanes just after midnight Wednesday to become the first Westlake participants. First night leaders were Al Golob in Class Two with 606, Bob Mac-Eachern in Class One with 588 and Bob Raeter in Class Three with 573. The qualifying round ends at 10 p.m. Dec. 15. With a 1964 MG sports sedan as first prize, many Westlakers are taking a little extra time to practice before shooting in the one chance in competition.

Carrie Futrell topped the St. Aloysius Mothers' Guild League with a 457 series on a high game of 158 while Bobby Barry took high game honors with a 163. Split converters were Lucy Good with the 5-6-7; Bette Barberian, the 5-10; and 6-7-9.

Bill Sargent bombed a big 238 game enroute to a 613 series as he led the 920 All-Stars for the week.

The Marty's Tigers team set a new league high team game with a 1020 effort in the Westlake Knolls League as Dick Combs strung seven consecutive strikes. Irwin Penn took high game and series marks for the night with 218 and 602.

Eleanor Torrigino won both high game and high series honors in the Morning Glories League with a 188 game and 517 series. She also won a free Thanksgiving turkey by getting strikes in the third, sixth, and ninth frames. Split converters were busy as Gert Pels picked up the 5-8-10, Ann Gorman the 5-10, Joan Gaidzik the 7-10 and Bobbie Fallon the 4-10.

Carroll Laganierg's 33 game and 574 series gave him top honors for the week in the Peepers Handicap League.

Claude Attell rolled a big 236 game and 583 series as he led the 839 Classic League.

Wally Kearney's 234 game and 587 series were tops in the Fivers Mixed Fives League for the week.

Sam Morgan found the Weekly Handicap Sweeper popular as he took home the $100.00 first prize. By popular demand, the Sweeper now runs from Monday to Sunday midnight, thereby giving midweek bowlers a chance to compete after league play. Last week 87 bowlers won $205.00 in prizes. It is expected this week's entry list will top the two hundred mark. Bowlers may compete for the $100.00 guaranteed first prize at any time during the week.

Ruth Noll continues to find the pocket consistently, this time leading the Ladies' 810 Classic with a 204 game and 578 series.

Our sincere congratulations to Bob Sexton, former director of our Junior program, who was selected as "Coach of the Year" while serving as head football coach at South San Francisco's El Camino High School.

The Westlake Junior Travel League teams continue to roll on. It seems to make little difference where they bowl, the scores are high everywhere. Three teams are currently in first place while two others hold second place in their leagues. Next Sunday finds our Junior 900 team meeting the King's Bowl team at Palo Alto Bowl.

Joe Mitchell topped the 805 Scratch League for the week with a 580 series on a high game of 205.

Ernest Morgan, the World's Champion One Handed Billiard Player, will be on hand at Westlake Saturday, Dec. 14, at 7 p.m. for an exhibition, match game and period of instruction. Admission is free and the public is invited.

Trout restocked at Lake Merced

San Francisco's South Lake Merced will be getting a total of 360,000 young rainbow trout from four far-flung hatcheries of the Department of Fish and Game this week and next.

The South Lake is closed until May 2.

North Lake Merced will remain open to fishing through Dec. 31, but the South Lake and its impoundment will be closed until opening day of the 1964 trout season.

The closure is to give the 5-to 5½-inch young rainbows now being stocked a chance to grow to good size before they are caught.

South Lake and its impoundment were recently chemically treated by the DFG to remove its predator-size trout and a variety of rough fish.

The lake has since detoxified and is ready for replanting.

South Lake's restocking began on Tuesday and will probably require about two weeks of work by eight DFG tank trucks carrying from 600 up to 2,600 gallons of water.

Colma soccer under way

There are ten teams ready to clash for the Colma-Recreation Soccer League Championship. They are as follows: Capt. Henry Michon's Dutchmen, Capt. Russ Runge's Lakers, Capt. Jerry Calios' Shamrocks, Capt. Bruce Bjoring's Celtics, Capt. Lou Matteucci's Lancers, Capt. Kaleika's Warriors, Capt. Mike Houston's Texans, Capt. Jim Golden's Vikings, Capt. Dennis Wong's Giants and Capt. Carl Campos' Bruins.

Opening day saw the Dutchmen defeat the Lakers 4-2 in a most exciting and well played game. The Michon brothers put their feet and heads together booting two goals apiece for the Dutchmen, while Joe Manella and Arnold Galarza scored one apiece for the Lakers. The other foot battle saw Calio's Shamrocks defeat Bjoring's Celtics by a score of 6-2. Again it was well timed brotherly kicking, Jerry Calios scored 4 while his brother Willie tallied 2 more. Thursday, the Dutchmen with Henry Michon's three tallies beat the Shamrocks 3-0. Oscar Rios and Joe Masangcay led the Bruins to a 5-3 victory over the Giants. Kiser and Padilla were the scorers for the Giants. The Vikings blanked the Texans 3-0 with sensational kicks by Fred Garcia and Art Aviles. John Hanley and Ron Bamboa with good assists by teammates gave the Lancers a 3-0 victory over the Warriors.

Friday the Warriors came back to beat the Giants 7-2 with Steve Howe and Pete Schultz doing the scoring for the Victors and Rex Newby booting two for the losers. The Texans exploded with a 2-0 win over the Celtics. The Lakers defeated the Lancers 6-2 with good assists from Russ Runge and Arnold Galarza and 4 timely boots by Joe Manella. John Handley scored 2 goals for the Lancers while Louie Matteucci had his day's work making some great stops at the goal.

Hippopotamus is a Greek word meaning "river horse."

Billiard expert here to show skill

Ernest Morgan, the man who lays claim to the "World's Champion One-Armed Billiard Player" will be in Daly City this week.

Morgan, a smooth man with a billiard cue and a smooth man with a show, will be demonstrating his skill at the Daly City Billiard Parrlor, 6380 Mission St., at 8 p.m., Dec. 5.

He will put on a one-hour display of trick shots, skill shots, pocket billiard techniques, rules and etiquette of the game and show billiard players how they can improve their games.

Also, he will demonstrate his $500 mercury-filled cue ball.

Professional

Morgan is a native of North Carolina who has been making a name for himself across the country for the past 25 years as a professional "one-armed bandit" of the cue stick.

A childhood accident—a dynamite cap blew off two fingers and the thumb of his left hand—plus a love of the game of "pool" has combined into a unique life-time career for the balding soft-spoken expert.

Family sport

This master player says billiards—pool, as lots of people know it—is just about neck and neck, now, with bowling as a famile sport.

"Billiards should be 'dead even' in popularity with bowling in about five years for family recreation," says the expert Morgan.

Both Morgan and Ken Bassler, owner of the Daly City Billiard Parlor, emphasize that the game of billiards—pool—has begun to attain the respectability it once enjoyed.

No longer, they say, is it wholly a part of the seamy side of the '20's and '30's and '40's with dimly lit "pool halls" and the strange and tough gangster types that frequented the game.

Today's billiard parlor is clean, attractive, brightly lighted and well appointed.

Comeback

"The same thing that happened to bowling is happening to billiards," says Bassler.

"Before World War II, bowling alleys used to be pretty bad in spots; now, they are places where the whole family can go and enjoy itself."

"This is true of billiards," says Morgan.

And, he points to Bassler's Daly City parlor as an example.

He says it is "one of the finest he's seen in a town like this . . . run right, has good tables and a nice place to play."

Played with best

Morgan has been playing billiards since he was ten and has played with the best of them, he says, including the renowned formed world champion Ralph Greenleaf — called the greatest of them all—who died in 1950.

"I owe what I've learned to Greenleaf," says Morgan. "He was the best ever."

"I traveled with him a lot; he taught me how to be a champ."

Morgan's one-armed world record comes from a run of 97 balls knocked into pockets without a miss.

In training

The one-armed champ says a man must have good muscular control, a steady hand and a good eye to play the game of billiards.

"I keep in training just like any other athlete," Morgan states.

He takes regular exercise, watches his diet and keeps himself disciplined to stay in shape.

Morgan doesn't drink or smoke.

He has appeared on the Ed Sullivan Show, the Perry Como Show, "I've Got a Secret," and "What's My Line?"

(They missed his occupation on "What's My Line?")

Tournaments

Bassler hopes to start regular tournament play among billiard players in Daly City and the area.

Grundyville Part III

The poker party

By Jack Wood

The Steelhead weren't biting and the Eel River was churning high and brown, so Tom Grundy joined the boys down at Cabin 11 for a game of Mendocino County Poker.

Sitting in were three fishermen, A. C. Woodley, Sweet William, a fellow named Terry and Burly Bob, the logger.

Sweet William, his hair combed back smoothly and his countenance unruffled, looked the perfect gambler as he raked in pot after pot.

A. C. was playing good poker but was becoming increasing drunk and belligerent. Finally after losing consistently he glanced around the table morosely and said:

"You guys show me no class."

"Very good, A. C.," said Sweet William, as he deftly raked in another pot. "I see you're in good form."

Tom Grundy exercised control poker, but Sweet William forged ahead with 10 straight winning hands, and he consolidated this with hard betting.

A. C., steadily losing, introduced aces and deuces wild, but Sweet William and T. G. continued in the lead. Then Big Bob started a streak of wins at low ball.

Terry exercised control, but got slightly drunk and played more and more deliberately and morosely as he lost steadily.

Then, in an attempt to confuse the other players, Terry began snapping a nickle on the table.

"Jeeze," writhed A. C., as he watched in discomfort. "I'm not kidding. Stop that!"

But Baseball Poker was the death of A. C. who couldn't control all his wild cards. The hands were too wild for his feeble mind to comprehend and he buried his face in his hands and shrieked in despair.

Tom Grundy chortled in delight at A. C.'s misery while Sweet William sat unruffled and Burly Bob cursed and swore.

Uncle Tom's face was flushed with determination and excitement as he sent the onlookers into a game of Baseball with the 3s and 9s wild.

"This," said Grundy, as he topped his two cards with an ace, "is what I call control."

Then Tom pulled the great hand of the night, winning with a royal flush against three other pat hands.

Finally A. C. consented.

"Tom baby," he said, "you show me much class."

Opening basketball action in College of San Mateo's plush new Gymnasium at College Heights pits the Bulldogs against Hartnell College Friday night (December 6) at 8 p.m. A 6:45 p.m. preliminary finds the CSM student body meeting the coaching staff. (The Sophomore class is sponsoring a sock-hop in the women's gym following the San Mateo-Hartnell game.)

Last year Hartnell finished third behind Coast conference co-champions Vallejo and Monterey Peninsula.

Fighting for the opening spots at guard are Milky Johnson from Ravenswood, Dick Drake from South San Francisco, Menlo - Atherton's Gary Horstkorta, and Jim Fields from Ravenswood. CSM's third returning letterman, Milt Dickerson from Ravenswood, is another strong guard candidate.

Others trying for starting spots as guard are Dave Parenti and Kray Hensley from South San Francisco, Ted Fisher from Woodside, Menlo-Atherton's Ted Fisher, and Galileo's Bob Beard.

Leon Wilson from Half Moon Bay, the tallest Bulldog at 6-6, is expected to see increasingly more action at the post position while Ravenswood's Art Crum is another "comer" at forward.

Ben Franklin wins over Alta Loma

In a tightly played soccer game at Alto Loma, Benjamin Franklin came out the victors by a score of 2-1.

Alta Loma kicked off and went immediately downfield and scored on the first shot.

Ben Franklin's defense then tightened and did an outstanding job for the remainder of the game. Franklin got their first score on a kick that got away from the Alta Loma goalie. A passed ball to the goalie went through for the Benjamin Franklin score. Towards the end of the first half, Benjamin Franklin made it 2-1 on a kick from 15 yards out by center forward Doug High.

Benjamin Franklin hosts Brisbane Intermediate School Dec. 6.

Other players for Ben Franklin were: Greg Deal, Dennis Smith, Bill Ross, Chris Pacetti, Larry Landess, Rich Calderon, Bruce Russell, Grady Proctor, Paul Franke, Bob Stillwell, Lance DeRoo, Gene Wilcox, Vic Yerby, Mario Sandoval, Bob Salzberg, George Boitano, Randy Lee, Tom Bocci, Mario Rizzo, Terry Nihil, Mike Green, Pat Elston, Gary Soules, John Bamont and Joe Fernekes.

Baha'i World Faith speaker on 'rights'

Richard Groger will be the speaker at an observance of Human Rights Day to be held on Thursday, Dec. 5, at the War Memorial Community Center, in the Coral Room at 8 p.m. The public is cordially invited.

The Universal Declaration of Human Rights was adopted by the United Nations on Dec. 10, 1948—just 15 years ago. It states in Article 1: "All human beings are born free and equal in dignity and rights. They are endowed with reason and conscience and should act towards one another in a spirit of brotherhood." This is a basic principle of the Baha'i Faith and has been since its beginning over 100 years ago.

As an organization with accredited observers at the United Nations in the non-governmental section, and twice cited by the U. S. Committee for the U.N. for its efforts in furthering the principles of the United Nations, the Baha'is feel that everyone has a vital stake in Human Rights Day.

The Baha'i World Faith believes in the oneness of mankind and the fundamental oneness of religion.

Watchtower Convention is Dec. 20

Watchtower Convention headquarters announced today that 20 department heads and their assistants have been assigned to handle convention needs fr the semi-annual conference of Jehovah's Witnesses at the Scottish Rite Auditorium in San Francisco, Dec. 20-22.

William Marks, presiding minister of the Daly City Congregation, said that his assistant, William Thompson, has been placed in charge of the Parking Department. Mr. Thompson, only recently transferred to Daly City from San Francisco's Ingleside Congregation, has long been one of the key figures in the Witnesses' convention organization, stated Marks.

"The purpose of the three-day conference," said Mr. Marks, "is to provide more than the Christian fellowship which always prevails. In addition, all of Jehovah's Witnesses come with a desire to receive Scriptural instruction and advanced ministerial training."

The volunteer workers are all ministers and, although the convention maintenance differs from their regular preaching activity, only ordained ministers representing the Watchtower Bible & Tract Society are assigned convention responsibilities.

The highlight of the convention will bc the public Bible discourse by Arthur L. Borchardt, district supervisor of the Watchtower Society, Sunday, Dec. 22, at 3 p.m.

Food for thought

Written under the auspices of the Daly City Ministerial Association,
By Rabbi Solomon A. Shore, of Congregation B'nai Israel, Daly City.

The year 1963 will go down in Jewish history as the saddest one of the twentieth century. The entire world has felt its repercussions and its sorrowful consequences. It will take historians many decades before they will be able to record in proper perspective the impact of these events.

Three great men have died during this year and each one of them has left a vacuum that will be felt for many years to come. The first one to have left us was His Holiness Pope John the 3rd; next in line of the fallen giants was Yitzchak Ben Zvi, 2nd president of the State of Israel and the last one was President John F. Kennedy 35th president of the United States.

Each one of these three great men have left our people bereaved and perplexed, for each one of them had played a tremendous historical role in shaping the destiny of Jewish people all over the world.

Pope John 23rd has been regarded by world Jewry as the most benevolent church leader of our century. His aim and ambition was to bring a better understanding between Christian and Jew.

During the few years as his reign at the Vatican in Rome he succeeded in bringing the world's religious leaders together with the specific purpose of making mankind aware of the trials and tribulations of our time. And the way to solve those problems which keep us asunder.

Protestants and Catholics were pondering over their differences and a way for an everlasting accord between them. Jewish people were absolved of some religious misconceptions that caused Judaism untold misery, and human degradation for many centuries. The death of this great Prince of Peace has left world Jewry truly orphaned, bereaved and heart broken. Millions of Jews the world over filled their Synagogues with worshippers praying for his soul.

The passing of the second president of Israel left world Jewry stunned for Yatzchok Ben Zvi was not only beloved and admired in Israel but elsewhere as well.

He was one of the greatest scholars and historians of this century. Especially in the field of Jewish history.

He devoted more than 50 years of his life to the compilation of a thorough study of ancient Jewish community He went to China, India, Ethiopia, for this purpose. He had visited hundreds of communities the world over in order to find new evidence, especially at the Vatican library in Rome, where he found ancient and rare manuscripts. He spoke most European languages, Arabic, Turkish, and of course, he was a distinguished scholar of Hebrew.

Not only did the two million Jews in Israel mourn his death, Jews and Christians all over the world marked his passing as a great loss to world culture.

The greatest and most recent loss to American Jews was the assasination of President Kennedy, one of the youngest and ablest leaders on the American scene.

President Kennedy was not only a president of the United States. He was more than that: He was the architect of a new world order. Of a new society.

Hi sconcept of freedom and equality for all men regardless of race or color, elevated him to the status of the greatest social philosopher of our time.

He used persuasion, logic, and skilled diplomatic negotiations where necessary, but he was not afraid to stand up and meet his enemies face to face.

Jewish people all over the world mourned his loss. He was loved and admired in Israel, loved and highly esteemed by European Jews and greatly loved by the six million Jews in this country.

He made a serious effort to bring a greater accord between Jews and Arabs and most likely would have succeeded had he lived.

Old and young filled the Synagogues during America's day of sadness and bereavement. President Kennedy will go down in Jewish history as a friend of our people and one of America's greatest presidents.

1963 has indeed witnessed the passing of three world figures — our world is that much poorer today because of their loss.

Glittering pine cones, red calendars made of foil—for the past few weeks busy little fingers of the tiny tots from the YWCA Creative Group Play classes have been fashioning gifts for their coming Christmas parties.

The time is almost here. Next week their celebrations will be held with little pre-schoolers from Daly City, Pacifica, South San Francisco and San Francisco participating.

Started approximately four years ago, the Y's creative group classes began with one class of 30 children and two teachers. Today there are over 250 local youngsters enrolled and the teaching staff numbers seven headed by coordinator Doris Fox.

Classes are being held every weekday at three locations throughout the area—Westlake Clubhouse, Westmoor Club House and the War Memorial Center. Activities consist of dancing, songs, toy bands, and a different craft project each week. This week the youngsters are learning folk dancing. Classes are of one and a half hour's duration and mothers assist in serving refreshments.

Open to children between ages of three and four, a new term begins the last of January. If you are interested in enrolling your child telephone the YWCA for more information.

Incidentally, two, if you happen to have some spare pine cones, the children could make good use of them because they are running out of a supply to paint.

One of the most active volunteer mothers who has helped with the creative group play classes is our volunteer community leader this week. She has given one morning a week for the past two years. She also has given many hours to other YWCA activities, serving on the program planning committee as chairman of one of their fashion shows and is now on the San Mateo County YWCA Area Committee. She has also modeled in the fashion shows and is a member of the bridge group.

Other community activities in which she has participated in Daniel Webster PTA, and she teaches Sunday School at Broadmoor Presbyterian Church.

We salute Marcia McGuirk as our community leader of the week. Residents of St. Francis Heights for five years, the McGuirk family, husband, Albert, and two children, Connie and Michael live at 213 Alta Loma Ave.

SOCIAL WHIRL: A gala evening is planned this Thursday evening at the Elks Lodge in South San Francisco, as the lady Elks gather with their husbands for a dinner and evening of fashion. Modeling elegant holiday fashions will be Doris Schmidt, Geri Hennessey, Evie and Pam Dravol, Peg Ryan, Betty Johnston, Helen Rozzi, Lee and Donna Lesher and Charlotte and Bett Noonan. Adding suspense to the evening's festivities there will also be a "surprise model." Commentator will be Beverly Ostwald.

If you are one of those who have often wondered "how do they do it" when you taste some of the delicious dishes concocted by Scandanavian cooks. Now is your chance to find out. Special guest speaker at this Thursday's Daly City Friends of the Liberty book review (10 a.m., Coral Room, Westlake Branch) will be Shirley Sarvis, for five years good writer and consultant for Sunset Magazine. She traveled around the Scandanavian countries in search of unusual recipes and wrote a book about it. Gather several friends together and plan to drop by. Remember you don't have to be a member to attend and refreshments will be served.

FASHION WHIRL:: For a really festive hair-do this holiday season you must wear jewels in your hair. We chatted with jewelry fashion expert, Lina Papes, about the newest in jewelry trends. High fashion she informed us is "the custom designed brooch that is also a hair clip." Extremely versatile, the brooch can also be clipped on an evening bag or on opera length pearls.

Dinners, dances, teas, parties—it is definitely one of the most social times of the entire year!

Highly successful was the annual dinner dance of the Small Boats Racing Association which was held last Saturday evening at the Encinal Yacht Club in Alameda. Trophies were awarded to many localities for past season's sailing events.

Coming up this Wednesday evening a Christmas buffet for members of Holy Angels Women's Guild. One of the main topics of conversation during the evening will be their coming Christmas pageant with youngsters from the school participating. It will be held on the 20th and 21st of December.

It will be a Christmas boutique and luncheon for the Episcopal Women of St. Martins to be held this Thursday at the parish hall. Margaret Morse is general chairman assisted by Jean Brugge who is in charge of food donations.

Special entertainment will be provided by dancing instructor Gertrude Scanlon and her pupils when the WSCS of Wesley Methodist Church hold their annual "Holiday Tea" on Saturday. General Chairman is Mary Murray and refreshments and decorations chairman is Ruth Ellen Stewart.

This Saturday too, Westmoor families will attend the annual chicken dinner and game night at the high school. There are still a few tickets left if you hurry, but remember they will not be sold at the door.

The Edgemar Club will be the locale for the annual holiday dinner of the Pacifica Art Guild to be held this coming Tuesday. Members will exchange gifts.

COCKTAIL PARTY for Little Children's Auxiliary members held at Whitcomb Hotel last Saturday in San Francisco was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Nuti, 164 St. Francis boulevard, Daly City (left) and Mrs. James McKeever, 5 Rockford avenue, Daly City.

This pre-Christmas house tour is presented every other year by members of the Garden Study Club, and has become a traditional highlight event of the season's festivities on the Peninsula.

A special feature of the tour two years ago was the historic Gold Coast ,a private railway car owned for some years by co-authors Lucius Beebe and Charles Clegg.

Webster pupils visit bakery, packing firm

Daniel Webster School pupils encouraged by H. Z. Weibel, principal, continue their field study program with three trips in the past weeks.

Mrs. Gladys Gould took her second grade class to Kilpatrick's Bakery on Folsom Street in San Francisco. The children were shown the bread making process from the beginning when huge quantities of ingredients were measured into a sifting machine. They saw eight foot bins of dough being kneaded, and placed in a heated room to rise. The dough was then dropped into a machine that cut it to bread loaf size and again allowed to rise. The dough was floured and rolled into standard bread lengths into bread tins and conveyor belts carried the bread to be heated and rise again. Following this process, the bread was placed in ovens on a twenty-five foot long rolling platform to come out baked, ready for cutting, wrapping and delivery.

The children saw huge vats of dough punched by a long rod, the gases escaped and the dough fell. A Kilpatrick pencil was given to each child as a final token of their visit. Mrs. Fred Traverso and Mrs. Albert Silvestri, accompanied the group.

Mrs. Elario's second grade class went on a stimulating field trip to the Dubuque Packing Company in South San Francisco. The children were taken through the building in groups of five with a guide assigned to each group. Some of the things they saw were: men curing ham with needles filled with liquid; ham and bacon being smoked; rind being removed from the bacon and the mixing of ingredients for frankfurthers, sausage and bologna. The making and processing of frankfurthers was observed and hams being put in stockings.

Seven parents accompanied the group Mrs. Spiess, Mrs. Kaufman, Mrs. Bisgaard, Mrs. Casias, Mrs. Brand, Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Gheno.

The children are now doing creative writing assignments about their experience.

Mrs. Eloise Heidland's combined morning and afternoon kindergarten classes were bussed to the central fire station as a supplement to their unit about fire departments and fire prevention. Fireman Jerry Davis gave the children a comprehensive talk and demonstration of a fireman's routine upon receiving the alarm. He demonstrated the resuscitator on a victim of smoke inhalation. Many of the functions of the parts of the fire engine were shown. The intercommunication system between all Daly City fire stations and the police department was explained.

Mothers accompanying the group were: Mrs. Randall, Mrs. Samaduroff, Mrs. Sharpin, Mrs. DeMartini, Mrs. Bentz, Mrs. Caddell, Mrs. Becker, Mrs. Bik, Mrs. Ferreira, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Malmborg, Mrs. Millard, Mrs. Morse, Mrs. Brendergast, Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. Shanabarger, Mrs. Tarantino, and Mrs. Vanderbur.

The reponsibility is ours

The tragic events of a fortnight ago which saw a president of the United States assassinated, a police officer shot down and the killing of the alleged assassin has gone down into the pages of history.

The sorrow, grief, shock, astonishment and numbness of this country and the world is now being replaced with a new determination and dedication to elevate the position of dignity and freedom from want of the minorities and under-privileged of this and other countries.

President Lyndon Johnson has made clear to the nation and to the congress his desire that these programs should be implemented.

When John F. Kennedy made his famous speech, "Ask not what your country can do for you, but what you can do for your country" he was pointing up the responsibility each of us has, not matter how small our position in life may be, to offer up the best in us to our fellow man.

It is easy for us to point to our leaders and say "you do it," but while leaders show the way only those who support them can make these programs effective. The ultimate responsibility lies with each of us.

Christmas perfumes are not always a bargain

"Twas just before Christmas and all over town
The con-men and gimmicks
were knocking dollars down
With offers of perfume and bargains rare
You can save many dollars
without turning a hair."

Perfume is one of the most popular gift items for Christmas shoppers. Unfortunately, it is also one of the most exploited products used by the "fast buck' 'artist who makes his appearance every Yuletide season with his re-bottled colognes and perfumes which carry price tags usually as imaginary as the advertised French origin of the perfumes and colognes.

Many Christmas shoppers are fooled every year into purchasing "bargains" in perfumes, toilet waters and colognes under the illusion that they are paying a price far below that normally charged.

Prime targets of the Christmas perfume hoax are business executives who order holiday gifts in large quantities, men buying for wives, sweethearts and relatives. Toilet water in containers with pictured Gallic scenes suggesting French origin have been pre-ticketed with prices ranging up to $20.00 when, as far as could be determined by investigation, the products so designated have customarily sold within a price range of $1 to $3. In some instances, such grossly exaggerated price representation have been bolstered by national advertising quoting inflated prices solely for the purpose of creating the illusion that that is what the perfumes and colognes regularly sold for and were worth.

Some of the promoters set the stage for fleecing bargain hunters with a one-shot national advertisement to substantiate the phoney price. They sell their products through high pressure salesmen in offices, at factory gates, on the street, door-to-door and in some stores. These salesmen display reproductions of the planted advertisements to convince the gullible bargain hunter that what they offer for a few dollars a bottle actually has a price value of from $15 to $20 a bottle. In some instances they induce a few retailers in an area chosen for exploitation to stock small quantities of their product at the inflated prices. The fact that the advertised bargain prices can be verified by a quick phone call to a local store helps to make their sales talk more convincing.

The most prevalent scheme is the re-bottling of cologne and toilet water in small purse-size containers. Firms having no connection with the brand name products used, re-bottle well-known colognes and perfumes and provide display cards which play up the famous brand names. The uninformed public may inaccurately infer that because the small size containers resemble those used to contain genuine perfumes, they are buying perfume at a bargain price. Actually, such re-bottled cologne and toilet water sold in this manner costs an exorbitant price when compared with the regular prices charged by the manufacturers of such products in their regular containers. For example, an eight-ounce bottle of a brand of toilet water often used by re-bottlers, regularly sells for $10, or less than 16 cents per dram. The re-bottled price in fancy purse-size conainers, giving the air of high-priced elegance and containing about one dram, sells for $1.

Another scheme is in the sale of spray containers which are not labeled with brand names but are marked with initials such as "A" which the sales person will tell the customer stands for "Arpege"; "C" for Chanel No. 5; "MS" My Sin; "WS" White Shoulders. In such cases investigated, these products have not contained the perfume, cologne or toilet water of the names implied by the initials used to stand for their famous counterparts, but have been concocted to simulate those fragrances.

Sometimes the use of numbers in lieu of famous brand names or initials are used in the sale of purse-size sprays and other containers. These numbers are translated by sales personnel from a list. "1" stands for "Arpege"; "5" for "Chanel No. 5" etc. Analysis of some of the scents sold in this manner established that although represented as perfumes, they actually were cologne or toilet water.

Christmas shoppers can avoid victimization in their purchases of perfumes by avoiding fly-by-night promoters and by buying from known, reliable dealers. Such dealers do not knowingly participate in any schemes at Christmas nor at any other time of the year to defraud the public.

But this I must tell. I mourn for you, for to me you were a hero from afar, I admired you for the courage you had

The View From Behind the Badge

Written and Edited by Daly City Police Department

Crime known to the police.

We have mentioned, critically, the crimes known to the citizens which are unreported by them. We were critical here because we are unable to fight these unknowns.

Reported crimes become known to the police. These we can fight. These we can compare against national trends, as reflected in the FBI's Uniform Crime Reporting.

This year to date is compared against the like period of time for 1962. The national crime rate has increased ten per cent.

The North Central States rose six per cent in crimes, while the Southern States rose twelve per cent. The Northeastern and Western States each recorded an eleven per cent rise in crime.

Daly City has had a five and one half per cent crime increase.

A bleak picture? Certainly. It is aggravated by not having access to the true crime picture, through failure to report crimes to the police, as we said recently.

But, if it is any satisfaction, crime is increasingg in this city at a slower pace than it is increasing either nationally, areawide or statewide.

Robberies are up four per cent for cities of this size, but Daly City is down 42%. We had eleven robberies this year, of which eight have been cleared by arrest so far.

Burglaries are up nine per cent, both nationally and in cities this size. Our burglaries are down 37%. Prevention and repression on the part of the Patrol Division has resulted in some gain here.

Of the 189 burglaries reported to us, investigation showed two to be unfounded. Of the remainder, thirty burglaries were cleared by arrest, and one was cleared by other means.

(We should remember here that recent clearances by arrest have changed this picture further).

Of our three murder and manslaughter cases during the statistical period covered, all have been cleared by arrest. These crimes are up five per cent nationally; these three crimes are a 100% increase for us, although all are cleared.

Auto theft is up 11% nationally and 14% in cities of this size. Ours is up 15%. Of 200 reported cases of auto theft, we found twelve to be unfounded, and cleared fifty by arrest.

And so, in the face of ever-increasing crime trends, we have been able to hold the line in some cases, and to move the line a bit in the other direction in other cases.

Where the situation has improved, it is attributable to several factors. Not the least of these factors is the citizen. The citizen who is on our side (and his own side, incidentally), is he who reports crimes known to him, who witnesses for the policeman, and who supports law and order and the community in these matters.

Stringent recruiting measures, as reflected by testing, evaluation and investigation, are obtaining a high caliber recruit, on the whole, and these intelligent and hardworking young men are helping our overall effort.

Training molds the recruit into policeman. This is done at the County-recruit level, and, later, at the roll call in-service level. These are the things that are paying off for the city, in spite of the national situation.

Daly City MONY men rank high in sales

Daly City life and health insurance men Eddy Wynschenk and Kenneth R. Kimball qualified during October for recognition as sales leaders for Mutual of New York.

Mr. Wynschenk, of 61 Plaza Dr., ranked second nationally —among 3,500 field underwriters—in the number of policies sold for the year through October and fifth nationally in the number of policies sold during October.

Mr. Kimball, of 34 San Miguel, ranked fourth in MONY's 11-state western region in the number of policies sold this year through October and qualified for the company's Summit Club, an elite sales-honor organization comprised of fewer than three per cent of the career sales force.

Both men are associated with MONY's Leonard Stiller agency in San Francisco.

TV and RADIO

The "Martians" are here—well, that is one "Martian" anyway. One of the season's entertaining new comedy series over CBS, KPIX is "My Favorite Martian." The man from outer space crash lands his space craft on earth and takes up residence with reporter, Tim O'Hara. Many hilarious incidents occur as he comes in contact with earth people.

In town to talk to the press recently was Bill Bixby who plays the part of the newspaperman, Tim O'Hara.

In chatting with Bill we discovered that he is a native San Franciscan who attended school in the Bay Area. He told us that ever since he was eight years old he has wanted to be an actor. He was most enthusiastic about the series and said that this is his first television series. However, he has appeared on "The Andy Griffith Show," "Danny Thomas Show" and "Joey Bishop" show. His picture credits include "Lonely Are the Brave" and "Irma La Douce." He also has had a stage role in the Los Angeles production of "Under the Yum Yum Tree."

In reviewing the program we think the idea for the series is good and could be the basis for many entertaining situations. However, we think that several of the episodes have been too far-fetched and not at all plausible. One interesting twist is that Uncle Martin, the Martian, can read the minds of all earth peoples except teenagers. This we agree, is certainly one idea that is plausible.

The world of the mentally retarded child is explored in a special KPIX documentary to be viewed this Wednesday (Dec. 4) at prime evening time of 8 p.m. As is usual with Channel 5 presentations, a great deal of careful research went into the preparation of the program. Producer-writer Brad Wright spent six days at the Sequoia School in Hayward studying the children's activities and classes. KPIX hopes that the program will promote greater understanding by the public, of the limited child.

California leads nation in veterans

California now leads the nation in veteran's population with 2,361,000 servicemen and women, it was announced by Glenn Corbitt, manager of VA's Northern California Regional Office.

New York is second with 2,173,000 and Illinois third with 1,335,000. Alaska, with 24,000, is the state with the least number of veterans.

Today, 45 years after the close of World War I, and approximately 18 years after World War II and eight years after the Korean Conflict, there are 22,127,000 veterans in the United States, according to the most recent estimate by the Veterans Administration, Corbitt said.

Seven out of ten veterans served in World War II. One out of every five served during the Korean Conflict while one out of nine had service in World War I. The number of Spanish-American War veterans is estimated at 21,000 and there are 23 veterans of the Indian Wars.

Average age for all veterans is 44, Corbitt said. Indian Wars veterans are in their 90's; veterans of the Spanish-American war average 85.3 years and World War I veterans average 69.1 years.

World War II veterans average 44 with the youngest in their 30's and the oldest over 80. Korean Conflict veterans are just under the 32-year average with some of them still in their 20's.

Stalled motorist, a dangerous situation

A motorist whose car stalls on the highway is suddenly projected into one of the most potentially dangerous traffic situations there is, the California State Automobile Association warned today.

The danger arises from the fact that when this occurs on a curved roadway, or when there is poor visibility created by fog or darkness, the stalled car and its occupants become an unwitting target for approaching vehicles traveling at high rates of speed.

The CSAA offers this advice to drivers when their vehicle stalls for any reason:

1. Before the car loses momentum, pull off as far onto the shoulder of the highway as it is safe to do.
2. Turn the car's lights on. Get out on the side facing away from traffic and have any passengers do likewise.
3. Never walk around the car or attempt to do any work on it until you have placed flares or some warning device at least 400 feet behind your car. Remember, when a car is traveling at 60 miles per hour, the average driver requires about 350 feet to stop.
4. In setting out the flare, walk as far off the roadway as possible until you reach the point where you are going to place the flare. Look carefully for oncoming vehicles, then quickly place the flare two or three feet from the edge of the road and get back out of the way again.

If you do not have flares, waving a newspaper or something white is an effective way to warn oncoming traffic, especially at night.

5. Even after placing the flare, never attempt to change a tire or do any other work on the car if there is the slightest possibility that approaching drivers may not see you in time to avoid running into your car.
6. While waiting for help, stand well off the roadway away from traffic. It is generally much safer to remain outside of your car

Lions hear about Pharmacists

The art of pharmacy and the part it plays in health and medical researchc was told members of the Daly City-Colma Lions club at their meeting last week at Toto's.

Ron Shewfelt, executive secretary of the Northern California Pharmaceutical Association said that Pharmacy was the art of compounding drugs and their effect on human and animal bodies.

"Pharmacists have a long and varied education," he said, attending six years of school and year of what amounts to an internship." This reflects the highly regulated aspects of Pharmacies, which are the sole repositories of drugs and medicines.

Pharmacists are expected to keep abreast of all new developments and may have to advise doctors on new medicines, he points out. For this reason six seminars are held each year in this area where the newest research is presented.

While more than 100,000 new drugs and medicines may be researched in a year, only 30 to 60 make the grade and are made available to the public, he said.

HILLTOP BEAUTY SCHOOL—Above are some of the students and instructors of the Hilltop Beauty School, which has just been accredited by the Veterans Administration. Lloyd and Emily Chamberlain (owners and operators at extreme right), have built the large, modern school up to 8 students and five instructors in only 2½ years in their present location at 6317 Mission St.

Worldwide Bible Reading observances

Residents of Daly City today were urged by the Rev. Vernon E. Thomas, minister of the Broadmoor Church of the Nazarene, to join tens of millions of people on every continent in observing the twentieth anniversary of Worldwide Bible Reading.

This program, sponsored by the American Bible Society, is a spiritual bond among the peoples of the world who each day between Thanksgiving Day and Christmas read the same, pre-selected portion of the Bible.

Frequently described as the "world's largest Bible reading class," the program offers a bookmark which lists a selection from the Bible for each day between the two holidays.

A distinguished board of laymen, among them the three living former Presidents of the United States, Herbert Hoover, Harry S. Truman and Dwight D. Eisenhower, sponsors the annual program.

This year's theme is "The Word of Truth." The program will start with the reading of the 100th Psalm on Thanksgiving Day and is climaxed by the reading of the Christmas Story from the Gospel of Luke on Christmas Eve.

MEDICAL CAR WASHERS—Seniors of the South San Francisco High School "Paramedical Club," who plan to become doctors, dentists, nurses or social welfare workers, are so anxious to see completion of the new Mary's Help Hospital in Daly City that they persuaded a car-wash station near the school to let them wash cars one recent Saturday, and turn the proceeds over to the $1.5-million campaign for the modern new medical and nursing center. Here, Miss Josephine Conover, is shown handing a check for $20.00 (their car-wash earnings) to Richard Minucciani, Hospital campaign chairman for South San Francisco, while Senior Dale Torres, a hopeful future doctor, looks on. Miss Conover hopes to take nurses training at the new hospital. Both students live in South San Francisco. 23 of their classmates assisted in the fund-raising work.

Daly City children start Operation 'Santa Claus'

Daly City children are already making plans for their participation in Operation Santa Claus, Charles E. Vincent, Director of Recreation, announced today. In past years, the children have entered into this community wide project in a heart warming manner and from all indications, they will surpass previous efforts.

Operation Santa Claus is a community project sponsored by many civic, social and religious organizations dedicated to seeing that the spirit of Christmas reaches all homes in Daly City.

The members of the various organizations all contribute in a multitude of ways to help reach that goal. Some help with donations of funds and merchandise while others help with distribution, transportation and labor.

Local Daly City firemen help in many ways. One of their most important tasks is the reconditioning of bicycles and other wheel toys.

Children from the playgrounds in Daly City have accepted the responsibility of providing canned goods to Operation Santa Claus. For the past two Christmas seasons, the children have done a wonderful job of fulfilling their part in this community effort. Last year they topped their previous effort collecting over six thousand cans of food.

Children will be collecting in the area surrounding their playgrounds from Dec. 7 through Dec. 20. The playground collecting the greatest amount will be issued a complete set of new playground equipment.

Many of the unfortunate facts of life give rise to the need for Operation Santa Claus. Divorce, desertion, unemployment, accident, illness or untimely death can destroy a family's Christmas plans. Operation Santa Claus is, in the words of Peter Markovitch, its chairman, "Daly City's way of taking care of its own."

Local Lions help restore sight to Korean girl

The Lions of Daly City-Colma have extended a helping hand to a little Korean girl in danger of losing her sight. According to Ray M. Logan, Jr., president of the Daly City-Colma Club, the local Lions are participating members of the Lions Eye Foundation, with headquarters at the Presbyterian Medical Center in San Francisco.

Bill McColl, former all-American football end at Stanford University and later a star with the Chicago Bears, is now a doctor at a mission hospital in Taegu, Korea. Joong Sook Kim, a 15-year-old daughter of a farm family near Taegu, suffering from a detached retina in her left eye, came to the attention of Dr. McColl and since there is no surgeon in Korea qualified to perform the necessary delicate operation which was her only hope against blindness, McColl appealed to the Lions of California and Nevada for aid.

An unsuccessful operation on a similar condition in the other eye, done two years ago in Korea, left the little girl permanently blind in that eye, so that her only chance of retaining any sight was the operation performed in San Francisco.

The Lions Eye Foundation, using funds contributed by the Daly City-Colma Lions Club and the other member Lions Clubs, is paying all the expenses of Joong's hospitalization and medical and surgical care. A public appeal for funds to pay the round trip air fare for the girl and an English-speaking companion, met with an immediate and overwhelming response on the part of the people of the San Francisco Bay Area and the two were flown to San Francisco, arriving Thursday evening, November 21st. The girl was immediately hospitalized so that preliminary examination could be commenced without delay. Expert surgeons operated on the 15-year-old on Friday in an attempt to reattach the retina, but it will be some time before the success of the operation can be determined. Regardless of the final outcome, however, little Joong Sook Kim will always know that friendly people in far-off America cared about her and that the Lions, whose objective is community service, recognize no territorial limits where the sight of a child is at stake.

Lions Club president Ray Logan wants the people of Daly City and Colma to know that their contributions during the recent White Cane Day drive have made possible the continued support the Lions give to their Lions Eye Foundation, a non-profit organization devoted to saving the sight of those who need eye treatment and surgery they are unable to pay for.

Locals to discuss Dimes march

At least four delegates from Daly City will be among volunteer leaders from throughout the county at a pre-campaign luncheon this coming Monday at the Villa Hotel in San Mateo to discuss plans for the 1964 March of Dimes campaign in January.

Local delegates include Mrs. Edward S. Berry, of 56 Parkwood drive here, serving as city chairman for the vital Mothers March in Daly City in the 1964 drive, with her aide.

Also attending are Joe Lewkowitz, city treasurer here, of 277 San Fernando Way, who as a former gasoline service station owner in Daly City held a "Pump Gas for Polio" benefit for the March of Dimes for many years and plans to get other stations in town to do it in 1964.

From Westlake areas, attending will be Louis Gazzano, manager of the Westlake branch of the Bank of America and chairman of the 1964 March of Dimes again for Westlake, as in past years.

Frank Davidson, owner of the popular Westlake Lounge in the shopping center, and now county chairman for taverns coverage throughout the county, also will attend.

Chairman James J. Kehoe, of the local county chapter of the March of Dimes-National Foundation, will preside at the luncheon meeting this coming Monday.

Local student named to dean's list

DURHAM, N.C. — Miss Patricia Lee Adams of Daly City, Calif., has been named to the Dean's List at Duke University this fall on the basis of high academic standing for the spring semester 1963.

Miss Adams is the daughter of Cdr. and Mrs. W. L. Adams, 64 Shelbourne Ave., Daly City.

SWORN IN—Daly City was well represented at the Naval Reserve Training Center, Treasure Island last week as Tom Davenport of 187 Mariposa Drive, St. Francis Heights was sworn into the Naval Reserve by Commander James V. Grealish of 36 Weston Drive. Tom enlisted in the Naval Reserve as a member of the Reserve Crew of the USS LAWS (DD 558) and will train aboard ship on the third weekend of each month. After graduation from the Westmoor High School, Tom plans to attend college. Shown on the right is Tom's father, Mr. Eugene C. Davenport, who witnessed the swearing in ceremony.

Prospective teachers visit Daniel Webster

Fifteen student teachers visited the Daniel Webster School on four days of the past week. The prospective school "marms" observed master teachers presenting modern methods of teaching, using techniques acquired during years of service, and displaying personal teaching aids collected during their years of service.

Miss Margaret Lynch, assistant professor of San Francisco State College, made arrangements with H. Z. Weibel, principal of Daniel Webster School, to give the students the opportunity to see a going public school in operation.

The visitation was the second one for San Francisco State College this year. Earlier in November the students of Miss Loretta Belgum, assistant professor of education, sent her class of 31 students to the Daniel Webster School for a one-day visitation.

Following is a list of the college students and the teachers in whose rooms they visited last week: Nancy Miles—Mrs. Carle, first grade; Bonnie Hughes and Joyce Whitburn—Mrs. Elario, second grade; June Venti and Allie Slagle—Mr. Forcum, fifth; Diane Nieri and Jean Moller—Mrs. Cain, third; Susan Rodriguez—Miss Gross, kindergarten; Marianne Sevier — Mrs. Heidland, kindergarten; Barbara Marsigli and Ludith Miller—Mrs. D'Andrea, fifth; Victoria Lee and Aprielle Woo—Mrs. Gould, second; Apriele Ushiro—Mrs. Megquier, first; and Beverly Chan—Mrs. Gray, third grade.

Cabrillo school adult class is postponed

The Sanitary Inspector shall wear or carry an official badge of office or other evidence establishing his position as such, and upon exhibition same shall have the right of entry in and and upon any and all buildings and premises within said District for the purpose of making inspections, reinspections, or otherwise performing such duties as may be necessary in the enforcement of the provisions of this ordinance.

Sec. 2.12. Responsibility for Defects. All plumbers shall be held strictly responsible for any and all acts of agents or empoyees done under this ordinance. Upon being notified by the Sanitary Inspector of any defect arising therefrom in any sewer or of any violation of this ordinance, the person or persons having charge of said work shall immediately correct the same.

ARTICLE III. LATERAL SEWERS

Sec. 3.1. Lateral Sewers, Permit Required. A lateral sewer shall not be constructed or a connection made to the main sewer in the District without first obtaining a permit therefor from the Sanitary Inspector. If work under any permit be not commenced within six (6) months from the date of issuance or if after partial completion, the work be discontinued for a period of (1) year, the permit shall thereupon become void, and no work shall be done at the premises until a new permit shall have been secured. A new fee shall be paid upon the issuance of said new permit.

Sec. 3.2. Application, Contents. In the application for a permit to construct a lateral sewer, or make a connection to any main sewer, the owner of the property, or his representative, shall describe, and shall show by a plat or diagram, the work proposed to be done, the exact location of the lateral sewer and the connection to the main sewer, and shall state the day upon which the proposed work will be commenced.

Sec. 3.3. Permit, Departure. When approved by the issuance of the permit such location shall not be departed from without written permission of the Board or its authorized representative.

Sec. 3.4. Joints, Joint material used shall be O.K. Joint Compound or equal approved by the Sanitary Inspector.

Sec. 3.5. Trenches, Inspection. All trenches shall be left open and all lateral sewers and connections to the main sewer must be left open for inspection, until inspected and approved in writing by the Sanitary Inspector. Upon written approval after such inspection, trenches shall immediately be backfilled, and the street restored to its original condition.

Sec. 3.6. Trenches, Backfilling. Trenches for lateral sewers within public streets shall be excavated and backfilled and the pavement restored in strict accordance with the laws, ordinances and regulations of the State of California, County of San Mateo, City of Daly City, or any department, authority or agency of either having jurisdiction of such street. Backfilling can only be done after inspection and approval of the work done. Upon failure within three days to correct any work as ordered by the Inspector, said work shall be corrected by the Inspector and the cost thereof deducted before remitting the balance of the cash bond to the applicant.

Sec. 3.7. Bond. A deposit of not more than $100.00, to be fixed by the Sanitary Inspector as the estimated cost thereof, shall be made with said Inspector to guarantee faithful performance of the provisions herein with reference to the construction of a lateral sewer, the whole of which shall be returned upon the completion of the work, when the work is done other than by said district. When said work is done by said district only the balance above the cost thereof shall be returned.

Sec. 3.8. Laterals. Backfill shall be placed and thoroughly compacted under and on each side of the lateral sewer to a depth of four inches above the pipe. The balance of the trench shall be immediately backfilled to the surface of the adjacent ground in accordance with the general specification of the County of San Mateo and the City of Daly City now existing or as hereafter amended.

Sec. 3.9. Pavement. Where any existing pavement or surfacing in any street must be cut for the purpose of constructing any lateral sewer, the owner or his representative shall comply with all state, county and city laws, ordinances and regulations pertaining to the cutting, opening, replacing and repaving thereof, and shall obtain all permits and shall pay all fees required by the state, county or city, or department having jurisdiction thereover. Pavement shall be restored to the character of improvement existing prior to the beginning of applicant's work.

Sec. 3.10. Barriers and Lights. The applicant shall maintain such barriers, lights and signs as are necessary to give warning to the public at all times that a lateral sewer is under construction and of any dangerous condition to be encountered as a result thereof. He shall also likewise protect the public in the use of the sidewalk against any such condition in connection with the construction of the house sewer.

Sec. 3.11. Liability. The District and its officers and employees shall not be answerable for any liability for injury or death to any person or damage to any property arising during, or growing out of, the performance of any work by any such applicant. The applicant shall be answerable for, and shall save the District and its officers and employees harmless from, any such liability imposed by law upon the District or its officers or employees, including all costs, expenses, fees and interest incurred in defending same or seeking to enforce this provision. Applicant shall be solely liable for any defects in the performance of his work or any failures which may develop therein.

Sec. 3.12. Lateral Sewer Materials. Lateral sewers shall be constructed of No. 1 vitrified sal-glazed clay sewer pipe and fittings having an internal diameter of not less than four (4) inches, or of standard weight cast iron pipe having an internal diameter of not less than four (4) inches.

Sec. 3.13. Main Connection. Lateral sewers shall be connected to the main sewer at a standard wye or tee branch, where such branch is installed in place in such main sewer within the street frontage of the property served by the main sewer and facing the said property. Where no such branch is available, connection to the main or lateral sewer shall be made by tapping the main sewer and making the connection therewith in a workmanlike manner, all of which shall be done under the supervision and direction and in the presence of the Sanitary Inspector. Any damage to the main pipe shall be repaired at the cost of the applicant to the satisfaction of the Sanitary Inspector.

Sec. 3.14. Separate Sewers. No two separate owners of adjacent lots fronting on the same street shall be permitted to join in the use of the same side sewer. Every house or building must be separately connected with a public sewer if such public sewer exists in the street or alley upon which the property abuts or in an easement which will serve said property. However, one or more houses or buildings located on the property belonging to the same owner may be served with the same side sewer during the period of said ownership. Upon the subsequent subdivision and sale of a portion of said lot the portion not directly connected with such public sewer shall be separately so connected with a public sewer, and it shall be unlawful for the owner thereof to continue to use or maintain such indirect connection.

Sec. 3.15. Inspection. It shall be unlawful for any person to construct any new sewer or addition to any old sewer, without first reporting said proposed construction or addition to the Sanitary Inspector. The fact of completion and readiness for inspection shall also be reported to the Sanitary Inspector. In no case shall the sewer be covered at any point, without the property lines, until the same has been inspected and accepted.

Sec. 3.16. Additional Interceptor. When there is no sewer in the street and it is necessary to construct a private sewer to connect with a sewer in an adjacent street or alley, it must be laid in the street on which the houses front, and not through intervening lots or under houses without the consent of the Board. If any section of the house sewer lies under any building or inside the foundation lines, it must be constructed of cast iron pipe.

Sec. 3.17. Storm Water Prohobited. No leaders from roofs and no surface drains for rain water shall be connected to any lateral sewer. No surface or sub-surface drainage, rain water, storm water or seepage shall be permitted to enter any lateral sewer by any device or method whatsoever, nor shall any septic tanks or cespools or the drains therefrom be connected to any lateral sewer.

Sec. 3.18. Waste Permits — Solids. No person shall discharge any industrial waste or any garbage or any solid, semi-solid or liquid substance resulting from any industrial manufacturing or commercial process or from any garage, service station or automobile washrack, into any main or lateral sewer in the District, without having obtained a permit to do so from the Board. No person shall discharge into any sewer any waste, garbage, solid or dry material which will tend to cause stoppage or which is prohibited by ordinance.

Sec. 3.19. Id. Regulations. Permits to discharge such substances shall be granted in accordance with the special conditions of each case and shall be subject to reasonable rules, regulations and requirements, or prevent excessive alkalinity or acidity or excessive discharge of organic or inorganic substances in solution or in suspension, whether liquid, semi-solid or solid.

Sec 3.20. Id. Removal of Solids. All persons discharging industrial wastes of whatsoever kind or nature into any lateral or street sewer shall by appropriate process remove all possible solid materials from the waste and shall neutralize or otherwise adequately treat such wastes upon their premises so that the discharged wastes shall not have an excessive quantity of suspended or dissolved solids, nor an excessive biochemical oxygen demand, nor excessive alkalinity, acidity, corrosiveness or offensiveness.

ARTICLE IV. OUTSIDE SEWER

Sec. 4.1. Permits and Fees. Permission shall not be granted to connect any outside lot sewer to any lateral or main sewer in the District unless a permit therefor is first obtained from the Board, and a connection fee to be fixed by the Board is paid to the Sanitary Inspector. An annual fee to be fixed by said Board shall be paid for such services on July 1st of each year for the ensuing year. Such fee shall be prorated for the period to the next June 30th, according to the number of months to run.

Sec. 4.2. Special Outside Agreements. Where special conditions exist relating to an outside sewer, they shall be the subject of a special contract made by the Board.

Sec. 4.3. Permit Optional. The granting of such permission shall in any event be optional with the Board.

Sec. 4.4. Connection Agreement. In no event shall such permission be granted unless the applicant shall first enter into a contract in writing whereby he shall bind himself, his heirs, successors and assigns to abide by all the ordinances, rules and regulations regulating the manner in which such sewer shall be used, the manner of connecting therewith, and the plumbing and drainage in connection therewith, and also shall agree relating to the use of said sewer, and agree to pay for such privilege the annual fee so fixed.

ARTICLE V. PUBLIC MAIN EXTENSIONS

Sec. 5.1. Single Family Unit: A single family unit is defined to mean and refer to the place of residence for a single family. Property improved for multi-family purposes shall constitute the number of units that the facilities thereon provide in number facilities for single family units. When such improvements are for other than residential purposes, the number of units shall be determined by dividing the total number of persons regularly using or occupying said premises by three. When said property is unimproved, a single lot shall be such unit. When such property is unsubdivided, it shall be deemed to have five (5) lots to the acre.

Sec. 5.2. Subdivisions: Before any property may be connected to any part of any sanitary sewerage system heretofore constructed or hereafter to be constructed by or for said District, and before any plans, profiles or specifications for intract or outtract sanitary sewerage facilities for said property shall be approved by this Board, and before any permit shall be issued by the sanitary inspector of this District, for the construction of said sanitary sewerage system within said area so subdivided, or proposed to be subdivided, which has heretofore been or may hereafter be subdivided within any part of this District, or within any territory heretofore or hereafter annexed to said District, which property is not served with adequate intract or outtract sanitary sewerage facilities, the owner thereof or other persons proposing to so develop or construct or connect same shall submit plans, profiles and specifications for the sanitary sewerage system to serve said property, and shall pay to the District an amount to be fixed by this Board which shall equal the costs of engineering, inspection, legal and other charges to be incurred by the District in examining said plans, profiles and specifications and other documents in relation thereto, and other expenses regularly incurred in connection therewith.

Sec. 5.3. Public Sewer Main Extension: Extension of sewer mains in public streets or in easements owned by the District, or in subdivisions or proposed subdivisions, will be made at the request of property owners or subdividers under the terms and conditions hereinafter stated. When approved by the Board, the District will make such extensions. The property owner requesting the extension shall either deposit sufficient funds with the District to cover the entire cost of such extension, including all engineering and inspection charges, or the property owner otherwise will construct the extension at his own expense in accordance with the plans and specifications approved by the District, and upon completion of the work will execute a deed and conveyance to the District of all his interest in said installation. The owner shall obtain such other permits as are required by law and shall be responsible for meeting the requirements of all applicable laws, ordinances and regulations.

Sec. 5.4. Permit Required: No public sewer may be extended within the District until a permit has been obtained from the Board.

Sec. 5.5. Requirements for Permit: No permit shall be issued to install a public sewer extension until the person applying for such permit has filed an application with complete plans and specifications, prepared by a registered civil engineer, showing all details of the proposed work, and in the event that an easement is required for the extension of the main or the making of connections, has procured and had accepted by the Board a proper easement or grant of right of way sufficient in law to allow the laying and maintenance of such extension or connection, and has paid all fees and deposits required by this Ordinance and the rules and regulations of this District.

Sec. 5.6. Application for Permit: Applications for permit for public sewer extensions shall be examined by the Sanitary Inspector of the District for accuracy of detail thereon and from his personal knowledge of local site conditions. The inspector shall approve the application as filed, or require that it be modified in accordance with the requirements of the District. The application shall then be submitted to the Board for its consideration, and for the issuance of the permit which shall prescribe such terms and conditions as the Board deems necessary in the public interest.

Sec. 5.7. Exceptions: Provisions requiring permits shall not be construed to apply to contractors constructing sewers and appurtenances pursant to contract awarded and entered into by the Board of this District.

Sec. 5.8. Performance Guarantee: The applicant shall post a surety bond (or cash) to guarantee the faithful performance of any agreement entered into with said Board. Said bonds shall be in the sum of 50% of the estimated costs of the work and shall in addition to guaranteeing the faithful performance of the work guarantee the maintenance of the sewer main for a period of one year following the completion and acceptance of the work by the District.

Sec. 5.9. Deposit of Charges: Any person undertaking the construction of a public sewer extension shall pay all costs of inspecting the work and other costs of the District. Prior to the issuance of a permit, he shall deposit, in cash, with the District, a sum as determined by the Board to guarantee such payment. The charge for such service will be computed at cost to the District for the inspector's time and for equipment used. Should the deposit be greater than the cost, the balance will be returned to the applicant upon completion of the work, but should the deposit prove insufficient, the applicant shall on demand pay the additional sum to cover the cost.

Sec. 5.10. Inspection: The public sewer extension shall not be connected to the existing public sewer system of the District until all work covered by the permit has been completed, inspected and approved by the District's inspector.

Sec. 5.11. Compliance with Permit: After approval of the application evidenced by the issuance of a permit, no change shall be made in the locations of the sewer line, grade, materials or other details from those shown on the plans and specifications for which the permit was issued except with written permission from the Board or its authorized representative.

Sec. 5.12. Agreement: The applicant's signature on an application for a permit to install a public sewer extension constitutes an agreement to comply with all of the provisions, terms and requirements of this and other ordinances and regulations of the District, and with the plans and specifications he has filed with his application, together with such corrections or modifications as may be made by the District, if any. Such agreement will be binding and may be altered only by the Board after the applicant has made a request for the alteration in writing.

Sec. 6. Disconnection: As a method of enforcing the provisions of this and any other ordinance or regulation of the District, the District shall have the power to disconnect a user or subdivision sewer system from the sewer mains of the District. Upon disconnection the Sanitary Inspector shall estimate the cost of disconnection from and reconnection to the system and such user shall deposit the cost as estimated of disconnection and reconnection before such user is reconnected to the system. The person in charge of the sewer system shall refund any part of the deposit remaining after payment of all costs of disconnection and reconnection.

The District hereby declares that the foregoing procedure for disconnecting premises is established as a means of enforcement of the terms of its ordinances and regulations, and not as a penalty.

Sec. 7. Constitutionality: If any provision of this ordinance or application thereof to any person or circumstance, is held invalid, the remainder of the ordinance or the application of such provision to other persons or circumstances, shall not be affected thereby.

Sec. 8. A certified copy of this Ordinance shall be forwarded to the County of San Mateo for filing with the records of the formation of this District and shall be open to public inspection, and a certified copy of this ordinance shall be filed with the City Clerk of the City of Daly City and shall be open to public inspection .

Model senate adjourns

Jefferson High School's 1963 Model Senate adjourned last week after passing a birth control information bill; an anti-racial discrimination bill; a prohibition on the sale of firearms by mail; and legislation to strengthen the U.S. Foreign Service.

One hundred social studies students took part in the affairs of the senate while other students handled clerical affairs and covered the session as photographers-reporters.

Josiah Beeman, president of the California Federated Young Democrats, chaired the group, ruled on parliamentary procedure and maintained order.

The fifth annual model legislative body was sponsored by the Social Studies Department of Jefferson High School.

Frank Kane is department head.

Groundwork

Young legislators held numerous committee, party and caucus meetings prior to the session held in the Daly City War Memorial Building.

Students hammered out procedures, platforms and the actual bills to be debated and voted upon on the senate floor.

An agenda published by the Jefferson High School Business Department contained party platforms, bills to be presented, senate procedure and a list of participants.

The Democratic and Republican platforms, written by the students, followed the political philosophies of the actual parties.

Parliamentary procedure, a section of the agenda, enabled motions, amendments and debates to be handled legally.

Employment discrimination

The student senate by a law declared that ". . . it is a right of every American to employment without discrimination, (and) this right is being infringed upon in each of our fifty states . . ."

". . . discriminatory practices in these areas therefore add to unemployment . .."

"Be it therefore resolved by the United States that . ..

"(a) the refusal to hire or the discharge of any individual for reasons of race, religion, or national origin . . . be henceforth declared illegal . . .

"(b) the exclusion from membership of any individual for reasons of race, religion, or national origin from any union . .. be declared illegal . . .

"(c) the exclusion of any individual for reasons of race, religion, or national origin from participation in any job-training and apprenticeship programs sponsored by the unions and employers . . . be declared illegal."

Fight

The bill, submitted by Chris Christiano (Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis.) passed.

Southern senators led by Shirley Murphy (Byrd, D-Va.) and Manuela Linares (Talmadge, D-Ga.) fought a bitter, but losing, battle against the bill on the senate floor.

Democratic and Republican leaders Evelyn Morabe, majority leader (Mansfield, D-Mont.), and Elfi Dahme Humphrey, D-Minn.) joined with Bob Dumont (Dirksen, R-Ill.) and Judy Reed (Kuchel, Cal.) to drive through the measure.

Birth control

The senate's foreign affairs committee sent through a bill tying birth control with foreign aid.

The bill passed.

"Therefore be it resolved," said the bill, "by the United States Senate the following go into effect with the passage of this bill:

"Henceforth, any country refusing to take part in a concerted effort at limiting its population where continued population growth would be a detriment to the indigenous economy shall be excluded from receiving foreign aid funds."

"Any country wishing information or materials on curbing its population growth through birth control, may receive, upon request, such information and materials through our State Department."

The bill was submitted by James Royce as Senator John Sparkman, D-Ala.

Value

"Through the Model Senate I learned how our government is run," said Valerie Cannon, who was Sen. Thurston Morton, R-Ky.

"I think a person gets a more personal feeling about the government by taking part in the Senate," she summed up.

Janis Taylor—Sen. McNamara of Michigan—felt the group was so valuable it should be compulsory for Jefferson students.

Evelyn Morabe, Sen. Mansfield of Montana, found her greatest thrill to be "watching the two parties work together for the best legislation."

Extra-curricular

Membership in the senate was voluntary.

More than 110 Jefferson students signed up to take part.

Ed Cereghino was faculty advisor for the Democratic party and Rudie Tretten advised the Republican party.

Coverage

Photographic coverage for the event was handled by the advanced photography class under the direction of Gil Toibin.

Student photographers were Dave Barbara, Bill Bateman, Randy Marston and Vic Ojakian.

Board offers help to B'nai Israel

Congregation B'nai Israel of Daly City is in a dilemma and the county board of supervisors is trying to help them out of it.

The board recently turned down a use permit for the Congregation to build a new house of worship on a lot it had acquired in Colma.

The lot has only 15,000 square feet, whereas the county's maximum requirement for a church site is 20,000 square feet.

The Supervisors have offered to help the congregation acquire an adjoining lot that would bring the total property up to standard.

Joseph Delucchi, owner of the adjoining lot, last month filed an appeal, and the board of supervisors overruled the decision of the planning commission which had approved the lot and withdrew the use permit.

Rabbi Shore said that since Joseph Delucchi is "holding up progress," the board of supervisors should persuade Delucchi to give up his 5,000 square feet of property, and try to help Delucchi find another 5,000 square feet of property to build on.

Shore also said "It was evident the board of supervisors were perhaps hasty in refusing the use permit because they were unaware we owned a 15,000 square foot lot."

B'nai Israel's problems are tri - fold, according to the Rabbi.

"We have been asked to move from our old location on Los Banos Ave. to make way for the new one-way route to the new freeway.

"Our use permit has been approved by one body and refused by another. We are battling for a variance, not an ordinance."

The 56-member Synagogue is the oldest Jewish House of Worship in the county, formed 56 years ago in the same location. There are about 65 members. It is a conservative Synagogue.

The new Synagogue will be a modern structure, and will house some 100 members. A prayer meeting is to be held in front of the old Synagogue within the next few weeks before the old building is removed.

"We hate to see it destroyed," said Rabbi Shore. He said the building, the oldest Jewish House of Worship in this part of the country, had produced many famous men.

Dimes march opening set January 2

Birth defects and arthritis are the two major targets in the 1964 March of Dimes campaign in January, it was stressed at a pre-campaign luncheon on Monday of this week attended by volunteer workers from Daly City among scores from throughout the county.

"With polio all but licked as a result of the two vaccines developed over the years by medical research supported by the American people through donations to the annual March of Dimes," according to Chairman James J. Kehoe, of the local chapter of the National Foundation, "we are now seeking to do likewise in both birth defects and arthritis soon."

He said these crippiers strike down "far more victims than polio ever paralyzed for life in the old days, arthritis hitting young and old alike."

Among those volunteer leaders attending the luncheon from Daly City included Mrs. Edward S. Berry, local city chairman for the Mothers March phase of the 1964 March of Dimes; Joseph (Joe) Lewkowitz, city treasurer here and new general city chairman for the January campaign; and Frank Davidson, owner of the popular Westlake Lounge in the Westlake shopping center area of Daly City, now county chairman for the San Mateo County Taverns division of the campaign.

He needed gas money?

A sun-tanned young man, wearing a windbreaker jacket, held up the Standard Station, 392 Alemany Blvd., at 3:07 a.m. Dec. 6, and drove off with $50.

He threatened lone attendant Jack Pickering, 20, 321 Price St., with a knife, and collected the money from cash drawers, then left headed toward San Francisco in a white Porsche.

Apartment zoning ok'd

A request to rezone property south of Brunswick street in Daly City between Wellington avenue and Hillside boulevard from commercial to residential in order to erect apartment was passed Monday night by the city council.

Charles Garry, 482 Wellington avenue, spoke in opposition to petition. Eleven residents had petitioned against the rezoning. Garry said he was worried about water pressure in the area, that the construction of an apartment building would increase the water use and lower the existing water pressure even more.

City engineer William Chapman said the construction of an apartment building across the street would have no effect on Garry's water pressure and the pressure of other lines, because this will be fed by another reservoir.

de facto segregation

DC schools seek answer; hard problem

De facto segregation in Daly City schools—a problem emotionally charged and leavened with difficulty—has shot to the surface here.

A proposed elementary school transportation policy, pending before the Jefferson Elementary School District Board of Trustees, has brought charges of perpetuating de facto segregation in our schools.

Demands that Daly City school board members write policies taking a stand on the question have arisen.

Further demands to make studies and appraisals have been heard.

A controversy has begun to grow.

That there is de facto segregation in Daly City schools has never been denied.

It exists, say many people.

Its existence has been recognized by administrators and educators in our community for some time.

Solutions have been sought and are being sought.

For the past three years, Richard Foster, superintendent of the Jefferson Elementary School District has been studying the problem in his district.

His answers have attracted the attention of other districts.

Edward Morgan, superintendent of the Jefferson Union High School District, points out a teachers' group has been devoting time to a study of de facto segregation in the high schools and seeking its solution there.

A report of their findings and recommendations is forthcoming in the near future, says the superintendent.

Answers are not easy to find.

Administrators and educators agree that de facto segregation in the public schools is perhaps the toughest problem facing California — and Daly City — today.

The Education News Service, and its reporter Leonard Kreidt, has developed information and expert opinion into what is one of the most complete reports ever written on the subject.

For the next five weeks, that report will follow.

Verducci resigns; will enter supervisor race

Mayor Joseph J. Verducci of Daly City, Monday night announced his resignation from the Daly City council, effective Jan. 1, in order that he might devote himself to the activities of a candidate for Supervisor of the Fifth District of San Mateo County.

Verducci, a member of the council 12 years, said he regretted leaving his fellow councilmen with whom he worked as a team.

"It is with regret," he stated, "that I must submit my resignation as mayor and councilman effective Jan. 1. The duties and demands on the mayor are such as to interfere with the amount of effort and energy which I will exert in the approaching June election, when I will be a candidate for Supervisor of San Mateo County.

After 12 years on the city council, Verducci said, "leaving is no easy task, particularly after watching the city grow from a population of 0,000 in 1952 to approximately 60,000 presently."

Vice-mayor Michael DeBernardi said "The contribution of Joe Verducci to the development of Daly City has been significant. He has contributed the leadership qualities that he has so adequately demonstrated in other fields, and, at the same time, has shown an excellent knowledge of the workings of local government."

Councilman said there was no question of Verducci's leadership ability. He stressed Verducci's biggest quality was in being able to disagree and to get his point across.

Vice Mayor DeBarnardi is expected to take over the helm as mayor of Daly City. A councilman to fill Verducci's seat is expected to be named next week.

Verducci, dubbed "Little Joe" in 1931 when he became one of the smallest quarterbacks in Cal history at 5-6 and 155 pounds, has been director of athletics for San Francisco State College since 1950, and until 1960 served as head football coach. Until recently, he had served as assistant dean of students.

A councilman since 1952, and mayor for half those 12 years, Verducci, 52, originally entered politics because he felt that "it's a citizen's duty to make himself available for service to his community."

A popular man because of his leadership in civic affairs and education, Verducci serves as vice president of the League of California cities.

Verducci has received wide support for his candidacy from leaders of government, labor, business and professions, throughout the country.

Verducci has also received local and national honors for his work in youth guidance and educational fields.

He lives with his wife Florence and son Jerold, 13, at 118 Wilshire Avenue, Daly City. The Verduccis have two daughters, Mrs. Florence Joan Armstrong of Berkeley and Diane Verducci of San Francisco.

Verducci remains active in civic and youth groups, serving on the Boy Scout Executive Board for San Mateo County, the Daly City Rotary Club, as a commissioner for the Pop Warner football league and a member of the board for the San Mateo County Health Association.

He is currently a member of the NCAA Football Rules Committee and head northern California scout for the Chicago Bears professional football team.

Praise, criticism for SM county fair

By Floyd F. McCue

Brickbats and praise aimed at the operations of the San Mateo County Fair Association came thick and fast Thursday when the Board of Supervisors brought the two factions together for a public hearing.

There was no question of the stand of the agriculturists and garden club representatives as they demanded a full reorganization of the fair board. On the other hand, fair officials were as quick to point out the success and growth of the annual show.

Supervisor Chairman James V. Fitzgerald opened the meeting by saying that there was one purpose in calling the meeting, "To work together for an even greater fair." This announced theme, however, didn't clear the air as speaker after speaker took sides in the bitter dispute.

William H. Enemoto, president of the San Mateo County Farm Bureau, opened the opposition's presentation, criticizing the fact the present board was self-perpetuating and needed new and younger blood. He presented a list of nine changes that would eliminate the present board. They were listed as follows:

1. Henceforth all members of the Board of Directors shall be appointed by the Board of Supervisors of San Mateo County.

2. Appointments shall be made without reference to supervisorial districts to the end that the best informed and most dedicated agricultural and business leaders should be chosen.

3. The Board of Directors shall be reduced in number from the present sixteen to ten or twelve.

4. No Director shall accept appointment unless prepared to commit himself to give 10 per cent of his time during his years of appointment to the interests of the Fair.

5. Fifty per cent of the membership of the Board must be chosen from people who have demonstrable records for understanding, knowledge, training and experience in some field of agriculture. The selection should include, as far as possible, representation of field crops, livestock, home economics, Junior Livestock activities, and, particularly, all phases of floriculture in light of the latter's predominance in this County's agriculture; and every effort must be made to include representation of producers, wholesalers and shippers, retailers and also the organized and representative garden club leaders of the County.

6. All appointments by the Supervisors shall be staggered and made for a period not to exceed four years, and no individual may serve more than two four-year terms under any circumstances. Provision should be made for honorary members, without authority, for those whose lengthy and other services beyond the call of duty so justify.

7. Four County officials, essential to the success of the Fair and making possible complete liaison with the County Board of Supervisors and County Manager shall at all times be ex-officio members but without vote. They shall be expected to attend all meetings, although they may designate a chief deputy to represent them. These officials shall be:

a) County Superintendent of Schools, representing general education.

(c) County Agricultural Commissioner, representing knowledge and contracts with all phases of amateur, professional and commercial agriculture and horticulture.

(c) County Farm Advisor, representing the University of California and agricultural education.

(d) County Treasurer, who may act as liaison and may be expected to co-ordinate in the handling of the monies which have to be contracted with State approval by the Board of Supervisors and the State Department of Finance as well as the Race Track.

8. All regular and continuing employees of the San Mateo County Fair Association shall be selected under principles of the San Mateo County Civil Service system. The Board of Supervisors of the County may be expected to provide the cooperation of this department of County Government.

Ed LeVesconte, president of the fair association board, pointed out the directors were charged with running a well-rounded fair and was one of two or three county fairs in the state that was self-supporting. He explained that operations and prize monies were governed by state regulations. Answering criticism that agriculture — including flower growers—dominated allocated space with 90,000 plus square feet. He said demands for a year-round flower center would not meet state regulations, plus the fact no suitable site was available at the fairgrounds.

The president also countered the claim of longevity of service was a benefit to the operations. "It takes several years," he said, "to grasp the scope of operations and we value the guidance of these so-called older heads."

De Facto Segregation

Better public understanding of this emotional, controversial issue is essential say educators, before there is any hope of finding a satisfactory solution.

It is with this thought in mind that we offer you this

On the official record, California is committed to do what is necessary to eradicate racial segregation in its public schools.

Policy statements, legislative statements and regulations from the Governor, the Legislature, the various State departments and local governmental agencies have stated clearly: "Segregation in the schools is morally, socially and educationally indefensible and must be eliminated."

The tone has been set, the atmosphere created for a frontal tricky, ticklish problem. But even the most avid integrationists among public officials who are informed on the subject admit they can't guarantee anything at this time.

There are valid reasons why they can't, and these reasons lead other officials to doubt that genuine racial integration of the schools will happen in the predictable future.

This gloomy outlook notwithstanding, no one in authority has suggested that desegregation be abandoned as a lost cause. The mood is to slog ahead with a number of suggested remedies in the hope that progress will come out of earnest thought, hard work and good will.

That there is segregation in California schools no one denies. But it differs from Deep South segregation, which is set up by law (de jure), in that here it is without the sanction or intent of law (de facto).

It may come as a surprise to many Californians to learn that de jure segregation existed here as late as 1947. In that year a permissive school segregation law originally amied at Orientals was repealed. To the credit of the State's school districts, it had been used only in rare instances.

There are two kinds of de facto segregation in California. One came about intentionally through the drawing of attendance area boundaries to keep certain schools all-white, others all-black. The other came with the transition of neighborhoods from white to mixed to colored while attendance area lines remained static.

Nationally the death knell of de jure segregation was sounded by the U.S. Supreme Court in its historic 1954 decision which declared that "separate school facilities are inherently unequal."

Official recognition and condemnation of de facto segregation came in 1961 when the courts required the New Rochelle, New York, school system to correct racial imbalance brought about by the germandering of attendance area boundaries and discriminatory policies on student transfers from one area to another.

In June, 1962, the California State Board of Education reacted to the New Rochelle decision and a presentation by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) by adopting a strong policy against de facto racial segregation in the schools.

The Board recognized patterns of residential segregation as being primarily responsible for the school situation, and in subsequently adopted regulations decreed that color is a relevant factor that must be considered in laying out school attendance zones, locating new schools and forming new school districts.

Evidence of the Board's temper and resolution in adopting the policy was provided shortly thereafter when a proposal to form a new, segregated school district in Southern California was rejected.

Denial was on the grounds that the boundary lines of the proposed San Antonia Unified District failed to include an adjacent, predominantly Negro, area.

By contrast, formation of the totally-white La Canada Unified School District was partially motivated by segregation desires and was authorized before current State Board policies were adopted.

Further impetus to the anti-segregation effort was given by the 1963 Legislature with the passage of Senate Bill 170. It gave to the State Department of Education's Commission on Teacher Employment Practices the responsibility for assisting local school districts, at their request, in eliminating de facto segregation.

That put the load on the broad shoulders of Wilson Riles, the Commission's consultant.

The law became effective Sept. 20. Not having had time to acquire a staff, Riles has, since then, fielded many district requests for aid himself.

"The Commission doesn't pose as having all the answers," Riles said. "Our role will be to get needed information and interpretations, provide legal resources and find examples of past experience to lessen any negative impact of desegregation."

Riles emphasized that his office will have no responsibility for taking anti-segregation action.

"That will be the job of the local governing board," he pointed out.

March of Dimes opening set

The 1964 March of Dimes officially begins January 2, it was announced, continuing throughout the first month of the new year as always since founded in 1938 by the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, himself a polio victim when a young man.

Party, dance for Methodist youth group

The Methodist Youth Fellowship of St. Paul's Methodist Church of South San Francisco will hold a party and dance on Saturday, Dec. 14, from 7 to 11 p.m. Youth groups from other churches have been invited to attend. President Janet Balfour announces the following committees for the affair: Music: Frances White; decorations: Don Rummell, chairman, Beth Soltis, Paula Atkinson, Randy Berry, Melody Harris, Janet Balfour; refreshments: Sue Minucciani, chairman, Bill Thompson and Sandra Ferris; clean-up: Dennis Dawson, chairman.

For the third Sunday of Advent, Dec. 15, Rev. Robert A. Dundy of St. Paul's Methodist Church, South San Francisco, announces his topic for morning worship at 10 a.m. to be "What does the Divinity of Jesus Mean?" A baptismal ceremony will be held. Food for thought

The Significance of Christmas—John 1:29

History is a contest between God and antigod, or, as Goethe once expressed it, a battlefield between faith and unbelief! This is no sham battle as many would have us believe, it is terribly real and no man in his own strength and ingenuity can possibly conquer the evil and mysterious powers of darkness which day in and day out beset his soul.

This truth has been given indelible reinforcement these past weeks in America. Indeed, as another has written, "in the tragedy of Dallas the soul of a people stood revealed." The revelation brought a flood of shame that a crime of such enormity could take place in our land. Coupled with shame we experienced a personal sense of guilt because we had for years been tolerating unholy passions of hatred and allowed the bigots on both the right and the left to inflame our land with their diatribes of dissension spewed from their unholy mouths and evil hearts on television, radio and in the press. Who has not been overwhelmed by a depravity so deep, "leading as it did to tragedy so final and all encompassing." It was too much for us to bear! In helplessness and despair we fell back on our faith in God. All over this land people flocked to their Churches, their Synagogues, and turned searching hearts and tear stained faces toward the Merciful God. In fact we have been brought face to face with that which is real and lasting in life. May God grant that we keep this vision of faith, this knowledge of His mighty strength and our essential weakness in the days and years ahead.

Christmas, with its glorious news "The Birth of the Redeemer," assures us that we do not have to walk in the muck and mire of evil nor succumb to the powerful forces of Anti-Christ in this world. Christmas assures us that even we can have "Clean Hands" and "Pure Hearts" because through the Christ of God we can "live and move and have our being!" We will continue to miss the real meaning and purpose of Christmas until we know deep with our souls that Jesus came to bridge the chasm that separates men from God. Jesus came because of sin! Sin, dreadful sin in the hearts of us all. Sin in my life because I let it be there; sin because I choose my own way instead of His. No powerful Devil, over whom we have no control, forces sin upon us; he strikes where he knows we are weak and might yield — and the yielding is where we sin. To be sure as long as I try to fight him in his own strength I am doomed to fail; no man can, in his own strength, match the awful powers of darkness. We need God's help, this is why Jesus came! He came to enter the hearts of men and redeem them from sin, to save us from ourselves.

Christmas calls upon all to let Christ "come into your hearts." Let Him do His saving work, let Him cleanse and control our sinful natures. Verily, He knows all about us; He knows all about the enticing and captivating power of our arch enemy — and blessed be His Name—His keen ears penetrate beyond the alien voices of hell and He hears the voice of the child of God who has gone astray and fallen victim to alient tyrants.

So Jesus the Christ continues to battle against the demons and He fights always for men. And this fighting involves the tears and blood of God, the agony of Gethsemane and Golgotha! So let us go to some quiet spot and take time to listen, let us heart what Christmas is trying to say to us. As you read these words close your eyes and listen, hear Him say: "You do not have to yield to Satan's enticing voice.

"If you have wondered far from God then turn and look upon Me and I will bring you into the light where devils flee, I will bring you to the light where devils flee, I will bring you to the Father—for I am the way and the truth and the life that leads home, to Father's home. Such is the theme of Christmas! It is the voice of the Christ saying: "My child you can come home, come home!"

Let us hear the ringing of the Christmas bells, let us join in singing with the hosts of heaven "Good news, good news." News so good than no man ever could have imagined it. News that would stagger everyone of us if we were hearing it for the first time.

News about God that is so different from what we might have thought or feared. News that He has sent His Son unto us and is inviting us to share in an unspeakable joy. Such, in part at least, is the deeper meaning and significance of Christmas!

So we pray—O Lord, Creator and Sustainer of all mankind, enter our hearts anew this Christmas; let Thy light shine upon us in all its healing and cleansing power. May the indwelling Christ purge us of all evil thinking, all prejudice and illwill, all fears and distrust. May Thy Holy Spirit keep our feet in the pathways of peace, and in all things may we glorify Thy Name. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The pastor of the local congregation, Rev. Herbert Tweedie, also issues an invitation to the two Sunday morning services at 9:30 and 11:00 a.m. with Christmas music and a sermon on the subject, "What Christmas Really Is." 'Heart of Christmas' Westside Baptist theme

"The Heart of Christmas" is the theme of the second annual Westside Baptist Church Christmas program, presented by the Church School of the church, Sunday evening, Dec. 15, at 6 p.m.

The hour change is for the convenience of parents with small children, and so that all the children of the Sunday School can participate in the presentation of this fine program.

Frank Navarro and Wendy Morrison will depict by way of a puppet presentation a grandfather and granddaughter. The grandfather explains to his granddaughter what the real true meaning of Christmas is. All of the Sunday School departments with the exception of the nusery department, will be involed in the program.

There will be special vocal and instrumental music also, and as usual, at the close, a small treat for the boys and girls.

A special added feature this year will be the bringing of a white gift by each child, the gift being a canned vegetable, which will be given to the Lifeline Mission, in the hopes of making a cheery Christmas day for the men on skidrow in San Francisco. At the close of the program, there will be a fellowship hour, with light refreshments being served.

Westmoor's Hansen 'Hall of Fame' pick

HONORED ATHLETE — Bob Hansen (left), shown with Westmoor Football Coach Pete Matisi, has been chosen for a "1963 Scholar Athlete Award" of the No. Cal. Chapter of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame. Hansen will be honored at a dinner Thursday at the Mark Hopkins Hotel. Matisi, Hansen's parents and several friends will attend the affair.

Robert "Bob" Hansen of Westmoor High School has been picked to receive a "1963 Scholar Athlete Award" of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame.

Hansen was one of 20 high school athletes chosen in Northern California.

He will be honored Thursday at 7 p.m. at the Fourth Annual Awards Dinner in the Peacock Court of the Mark Hopkins Hotel.

Distinguished himself

The 17-year-old Ram tackle has distinguished himself as an athlete, a scholar, a leader and a good citizen, say officials of the awards committee.

Athlete

As an athlete described by Westmoor Coach Pete Matisi, he is ". . . an outstanding high school performer. An all league selection as a junior at tackle who repeated this year."

"Equally adept on offense and defense."

"Is definitely a college prospect. Has size and speed plus desire."

"A fine young man; a team leader on the last two successive championship teams."

Scholar

As a scholar, his citation notes, Hansen has maintained a 3.0 grade average and is listed on the Westmoor High School Honor Roll.

Leader

As a leader, he is president of his senior class; was president of his junior class and vice-president of his sophomore class.

He is also vice-president of the Westmoor Block W" Society.

He was the American Legion Boys' State Representative.

Citizen

As a good citizen, Westmoor principal Glenn South described Hansen as ". . . a fine young citizen, both in school and in the community. All exceptionally wholesome. Well liked by both students and faculty members."

For this and outstanding athletic prowess, say his teachers and friends, he was selected to the "Hall of Fame."

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Hansen, 806 Skyline Dr., Daly City.

Tournament action will be on the Monday, Thursday and Friday nights of the two week holiday period.

Deadline for entries is Friday, December 20.

CSM meets Vallejo; Monterey

Last year's Coast conference co-champions furnish College of San Mateo's last home basketball competition before Christmas.

Tonight the Bulldogs host Vallejo JC and on Saturday evening Monterey Peninsula furnishes the competition in the new CSM College Heights Gymnasium which features 1500 capacity bleachers with padded blue seats and backs. General admission in 75 cents. Both games start at 8 o'clock.

According to CSM coache Jack Avina, if the Bulldogs win their three games this week (including Tuesday's clash at Santa Rosa) they should be able to hold their own against anyone they'll meet during the remainder of the season. However, at the beginning of the week, San Mateo frontliners Mike Gilman—last year's MVP at CSM and former Woodside star — John Carmichael (Serra), and George Raybon (Ravenswood) were all slowed with colds.

CSM opens wrestling

Although College of San Mateo is a slight favorite to repeat as Golden Gate conference wrestling champion this season, the race for the first place spot is expected to be even closer than last year when CSM edged Diablo Valley for the crown. — That's if CSM's first annual wrestling tournament is any indication.

Chabot, led by returning State JC 115 pound champion Mike Remer, nearly upset the host Bulldogs in the pre-season tourney. It took a 6-4 decision over Chabot's Buck Deadrich by San Mateo's State JC heavyweight champ Walt Wenger to give the Matesans the title by one point, 57-56, ahead of the Gladiators. Also in the running were San Jose (47), guest Modesto (46) and Foothill (45).

Each student is being given a week of the game's fundamentals and practice.

From A Feminine Viewpoint...

By Mona Baker

That "jolly old gent" with the long white beard has a busy schedule these days. An important date on his calendar is Dec. 20 when he will drop by the Village Cooperative Nursery School for his annual visit and leave a gift with each little tot.

In anticipation of his coming visit the little students have been busy making Christmas ornaments for their tree. There will be no school that day as the children, attired in their "party best," enjoy an evening of games and a party planned by the mothers.

Santa has paid a visit to the local nursery school ever since it began almost thirteen years ago. Formerly the school was housed in the historic old community center located on Dunk Street in Colma. This is the first year that Santa will visit the spacious new school located at 474 North Parkview in Daly City.

Mothers give one morning a week to work as a volunteer in the school as well as attend adult education classes every Tuesday evening.

In addition the group hold several social affairs each year. Members are already busy with plans for their annual spring dance which will be held in May and will be open to the public.

New officers have just been elected to head the organization during the coming months. They include Rosalie Nishio, president, Carole Sinclair, vice-president, and Ruby Gilmore, treasurer. Other officers are Vivian Smore, scheduling chairman, Carlene Morehead, parliamentarian, Selma Levinson, council delegate, Nancy Battagli, ticket chairman and Carole Gerhardt, publicity.

A truly dedicated worker for her church as well as other community organizations is our community leader this week. For almost two years she has served as choir director and pianist for Wesley Methodist Church. She also organized and is head of a junior choir made up of youngsters from third grade to teen-agers.

She has served two years on the executive board of her church's Women's Society of Christian Service (an international organization) as secretary of spiritual life, assistant program chairman and secretary of promotion.

Other community groups to which she has given volunteer service include Daniel Webster PTA where she was publicity chairman and room mother, Choir Conductors Guild of San Francisco and Eastern Star.

In her "spare time" she has been attending San Francisco State College where she will receive her degree in Fine Arts this June.

We salute Mary Murray as community leader of this week. Residents of St. Francis Heights for four years, the Murray family, husband, Roger, and two children (Steven, Melinda) live at 82 San Miguel Avenue.

FASHION WHIRL: Ahead, one of the most gala evenings of the year, New Year's Eve. We dropped by to chat with H. Liebes manager, Ann Orr, about the latest fashion trends for that festive evening. She told us that there is "still the empire look" with colors ranging from pastels to bright. The trend in formal wear is to "elegance" with long-lined formals in heavy brocades, cut velvet and satin."

CUTTING THE CAKE — Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Yaeger of Daly City cut wedding cake following vows at Calvary Baptist Church.

Sandra Torre becomes Mrs. Timothy Yaeger

In a beautiful candlelight ceremony at the Calvary Baptist Church of San Mateo Miss Sandra Kay Torre became the bride of Timothy Guy Yaeger last month.

Pastor Robert Mathews performed the double ring service for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis D. Torre of San Francisco and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde C. Yaeger of Daly City.

The bridal gown was fashioned in imported Swiss silk organza. The Duchesse neckline and sap sleeves were detailed with an embroidered motif. The same motif complemented the modified bell skirt and pouff chapel train. Her veil of bridal illusion was caught to a tiara of irridescent rhinestones. The bouquet was of lily of the valley and white orchids.

Miss Barbara Ames of Salem, Ore., was the maid of honor. She was gowned in Island Green Satin, floor length with fitted waist and a full bow in back with sash designed as a train over the semi-full skirt. Her green illustion veiling was caught to a matching rosette. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations with matching ribbon.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Jacqueline Kruezer, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Carol Fasano of San Mateo. Their dresses were the same style in gold satin and gold veiling.

They carried champagne carnations and matching ribbon. Best man was Robert Mathews Jr., a student at Portland, Ore., and son of the pastor. Ushers were Frederick Smith, cousin of the bridegroom, and Robert Simons of Sharp Park.

Flower girl was Laurie Abbott and ring bearer was Larry Abbott.

The bride's mother wore a two-piece sheath of champagne brocade with matching accessories and an orchid corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a gown of silk print in orchid and royal blue, with an orchid corsage. The bride's grandmother, Mrs. C. W. O'Flyng, of Salem, Ore., and close friend Mrs. Alice Terry of Huntington Beach were also presented orchid corsages by the bridegroom.

A reception followed in the church parlors with a similar theme of white chrysanthemums and candles as decorations.

The bride wore a camel color costume suit with matching accessories and orchid corsage on their honeymoon to Monterey.

The bride graduated from Balboa High School in San Francisco. The bridegroom from Jefferson High School in Daly City.

The couple will make their home at 164 Woodrow, Daly City.

Local tricycle set to star in parade

By Mona Baker

The dream of every little child that someday they might ride in a parade with a famous television star is coming true for three Pacifica youngsters, Susie, Tommy and Ronnie Dahli.n

They will ride on the "jack-of-the-box" float with Miss Nancy of KTVU's "Romper Room" in the "Toys for Tots" parade in San Fracnisco.

Scheduled for tomorrow evening (Dec. 12) beginning at 7 p.m., the parade will follow Irving St. from 8th to 27th Ave. Miss Nancy's float will lead the parade followed by numerous marching groups, including the San Francisco City College 58-piece band, U. S. Navy band and drill team, Marine color guard, the Caledonian Scottish Bagpipe group, majorettes, jesters and clowns.

The purpose of the parade is to collect toys for underprivileged tots as part of the U. S. Marine Corps Reserves annual Christmas toy drive. Along the route of the parade Marine officers and men in dress blues will accept the new toys brought by spectators.

Miss Nancy's "Romper Room" has long been a favorite of the tricycle set. It is one of the very few morning television programs for pre-schoolers. Well-produced, the show brings the participation of youngsters watching at home into the program as well as those in the studio.

Miss Nancy, with her warm and friendly manner, skillfully holds the children's interest and keeps the program moving.

In addition to her busy television career, Miss Nancy has given time to worthy community projects. Every year she has helped with the "Toys for Tots" drive. She told us that "this is the first year they ave held a parade." Uusually they hold a theater party to which youngsters bring their toy donations.

Westmoor Whirl

Cat-alliteration

By Sheila Stavish

Curious as to what is attracting their canine constituents, members of the cat corps have joined in converging on Westmoor.

A recent intruder on the psychology class, who may have smelled a rat (from the nearby biology lab?), was a rather forward feline. Seizing upon their first patient, the astute amateur analysts at first feared him a victim of CATatonia, by then diagnosed him as merely hungry and prescribed a bowl of milk. Lapping up his medicine and all the attention, the stray CATapulted to the radiator and retired for a CAT nap. The class found the whole thing very aMEWsing.

Deans let the CAT out of the bag that dilettante diplomats will be CATered to with the teaching of Russian next year by language instructor Norman MacDonald.

Chemistry students, whose study of matter had been limited to textbook reading about CATalysts and CATions, are exultant over their first important lab experiment, and are announcing airily that they have composed pure oxygen.

Icy weather is probably the cause of the slight CATaclysm of absences. Those who brave the fortyish degree cold don't shiver in silence, however, but utter loud CATerwauls exaggerating their mild CATarrh into double penumonia. Arriving in a state of frozen CATalepsy they walk numbly to class but are usually thawed out by second period. Hardy P. E. teachers are greeted with bitter protest and CATcalls at the suggestions of going outside.

Trying to muscle in on good grades, physiology students are conscientiously CATaloging everything from the biceps to the sternocleidomastoideus. Fortunately their studies are only theoretical; many of the neophyte physiologists admittedly would faint at the sight of CATchup.

CATegorizing their activities, awards, and ambitions, seniors laboriously filled out a record of their accomplishments of the last four years. Pens paused over the difficult and disturbing decision of choosing two teachers for recommendations.

Rams expect to have a PURRfectly merry time at the Yule dance, "Christmas Magic," to be held Friday night. Proceeds go to fill the senior KITTY.

Jefferson Xmas music

Gilbert E. Crane, director of Vocal Music for Jefferson High School, directed a concert of Christmas music last night in the cafeteria building of Jefferson High School.

The San Francisco Baroque Ensemble, Erika-Marie Matthes, director, joined forces with the Jefferson High School A Cappella Choir to present the featured work of the evening, Antonio Vivaldi's "Gloria" for chorus, orchestra and solo voices.

Terri Ercole, alto; Jane Fox, soprano, and Gloria Bias, mezzo-soprano, were the featured vocal soloists.

Senior qualifies at Westmoor IBM center

Valuable training and experience acquired at a noted San Francisco IBM school has qualified Westmoor High School senior Mary Woodside to work in the Westmoor IBM center.

Mary attended the preparatory school on Market Street during the Easter vacation of her junior year, spending nine hours a day for a week learning functions, methods, and techniques of operating the various IBM machines.

Sharing a classroom with approximately 25 other IBM students, Mary was given a "work kit" which she put to use at the instruction of the "tape recorder" teacher. While the entire course was taped, an instructor was nearby to supply additional information and individual assistance.

Although she worked at the WHS IBM center last year previous to her special 45-hour course, Mary is now able to put the extended knowledge to greater use. She helps the head of Westmoor's IBM center, Mrs. Bernie Gaskins, and keypunch operator, Mrs. Pauline Sutton, by assisting, for example, in the creation of report cards, class lists, and teaching material.

Included in the WHS center are six machines including keypunch interpreter, tab, reproducer, collator, and sorter. Functions of these mechanical geniuses are as follows: key punch produces code holes in the cards; the interpreter "reads" these small holes; the tab and reproducer type given information on cards; the collator merges them with other cards; the sorter separates information for the other machines.

Mary feels that her experience at working with IBM will aid her in obtaining a position as an attorney's secretary.

Senior Cecelia Murrish is presently learning to operate IBM machines at the Westmoor center and may also attend the school in San Francisco.

Besides serving the school and enriching their own experience as IBM operators, WHS students are given the opportunity to apply practical training to their school curriculum by working in the main office or the library. This year, Mrs. Connie Brown is teaching a new course to prepare students for office work. The course, titled Office Practice, gives girls with at least one year of typing experience further work in typing as well as filing and general office procedure.

A. Lincoln officers

The student body of Abraham Lincoln Elementary School elected new Student Council officers for the winter term. After a well conducted speaking tour before the twenty classes in the school, the voters cast their ballots for the following officers: Tina Herbert, Room 17, for president; Doug Kapovich, vice president from Room 16; and Wendy Baltor, secretary, and Robin Simon, treasurer, from Room 17.

Cuban exiles speak

By SUE SHERMAN

To explain why they left Cuba and how the Cuban government influenced their decision was the intention of four Cuban exiles who spokes at Westmoor High School on Thursday afternoon, Dec. 5.

Introduced by Jefferson High School instructor, Mr. Jim McKensey, these people told how and why they at first supported the cause of Fidel Castro in revolt against Dictator Juan Batista and then, disillusioned and outraged by subsequent Revolutionary practices, turned against him.

One speaker, a former Cuban lawyer who previously worked for Castro in the underground, changed his allegiance and is now a Director of the Exile Movement of Cuban Refugees in America. He joined the others in relating personal accounts of why they fled their home country.

Topics discussed by the three men and one woman pertient to contrasting situations existing before and after the Revolution included: the standard of living, treatment in prisons, the position, beliefs and actions of Fidel Castro, the Cuban military situation, working conditions, and the ration system.

Other areas covered were plans of Cuban exiles in America today and the present exercise of freedom of speech, religion, and press in Cuba. The progress of Cuban industrial and agricultural production and its distribution to the people was commented on as well.

Expounding upon their own personal association with Castro politically, the speakers also expressed opinions of this man and his actions which represent the general feelings of Cubans today.

WHS's Junior Statesmen sponsored the presentation of the Cuban exiles under the direction of adviser, Alvin Wolf. A month ago three American students who had been to Cuba gave their opinions of Castro's regime. This meeting was designed to present another point of view so students might draw their own conclusions.

Burglaries-who's to blame?

A brief notice was printed a couple of weeks ago about two teen-agers being apprehended and charged with nearly fifty burglaries in the Daly City Area.

The arrests marked the end of a long and tedious search by Daly City police, but this is not really the story.

In practically every case, the burglary "was easy, no trouble getting" according to the boys. The reason: the doors were not locked while the occupants of the homes were away.

With the approaching Christmas season, plus the normal early darkness of winter, burglaries always rise. If you do not want your Christmas presents to disappear, why not take the precaution of locking your doors —even when you just run over to the neighbors for that quick one.

The View From Behind the Badge

Written and Edited by Daly City Police Department

Crimes known to the citizenry . . .

The Federal Bureau of Investigation publishes, in the Uniform Crime Reports, statistics on something called "Crimes Known to the Police."

Obviously, the police can only investigate crimes known to them; obviously, to look on the other side of the coin, all crimes known to them are reported to them.

Some of the crimes are reported by patroling or investigating officers to their own agencies. This happens when these officers become aware of said crimes through the ordinary pursuit of their duties.

Sometimes an off-duty officer will witness a crime and report same to the interested law enforcement agency.

By far the most reported crimes, however, are made known to the police by the citizens. There are more citizens than police; as a result, they, in the aggregate, know more and see more of the quantity of crime than do the police.

So it is the crimes known to the citizens that are often unknown to the police until they are reported. Often these crimes are unreported.

When the crimes are unreported, and, hence, are unknown to the police, then the police do not have as complete a crime picture as they might have. As a result of this, they are not able to properly combat the criminal by proper distribution of the patrol forces to stop and prevent further criminal acts at the times and places where they are occuring.

Embarrassment, disinterest, fear of "involvement" or retribution—all of these are the logs that construct the roadblock that stalls and stops reporting.

And the forgotten person here is often the next victim of the predator—he who all too often is unstopped because he and his misdeeds are literally unknow to the police.

Witness: a woman is molested on the street and complains to the police. The perpetrator is apprehended. He is interrogated. He admits to around a dozen of such offenses in this city.

The only case on file is that of the woman mentioned here —and she did not want to prosecute!! (We prosecuted anyway — and convicted — by using one of the newly discovered victims as a complainant).

An officer arrests a young man who admits to forty-seven residence burglaries. He points out the houses, explains means of entry and describes the loot.

Thirteen of these burglaries had been reported. We had more trouble finding and establishing the victims than we did the suspect and his acts.

A burglar is apprehended by another agency. We talk to him at the County Jail. He admits to numerous burglaries and thefts from autos. He fully and correctly describes the medical building burglary that we are interested in. This, and his cooperation with other agencies shows that he is being cooperative and truthful.

So we take him for a ride around the city and he points out neighborhoods—he is unclear as to specific houses because he had always been "high" on pills when burgling.

He talks of ten burglaries and a dozen or more cars. We have three reports on file. We are able to make and clear two more cases—total of five out of many.

It seems to the writer that the attitudes that go to make up the non-reporting habit are the equivalent of going to a doctor and refusing to tell him where it hurts—with the result being, if the sickness is communicable, that more people will come down with the malady.

"LET'S SEE — WHO DID WE FORGET?"

Something for Everyone

By Samuel Chandler

In Shakespeare's "As You Like It" a lover sighs, "Good shepherd, tell this youth what 'tis to love." The shepherd replies, "It is to be all made of sighs and tears. . . . It is to be all made of faith and service. . . . It is to be all made of fantasy."

How different this definition of love than Carlyle's "Love is the beginning of knowledge," or Emerson's "Love, which is the essence of God, is not for levity," or Thurber's "Love is a strange bewilderment which overtakes one person on account of another person."

These quotations are four of 879 that appear in the section on love in Stevenson's "Home Book of Quotations," a book that should be in every home. As teachers, speakers, ministers, writers—the world over —will tell you, it literally has something for everyone and for every occasion.

The ninth edition contains over 75,000 well chosen quotations by 5,000 authors, and all for $25. The quotations are arranged alphabetically by subject; under each subject alphabetically by author. Those subjects that are covered with a large number of quotations are divided as follows: definitions, apothegms (maxims), praise, criticism.

Two indexes follow the main collection of quotations: one by author with reference to quotations, and the other by significant words in quotations, thus furnishing a concordance.

If there is anything wrong with the "Home Book of Quotations" it stems from a temptation on the part of the reader to think of it is an end in itself. Rather it is an index to a world of poems, and essays, indeed to all recorded knowledge.

Lick-Wilmerding High plans Yule program

To celebrate "Operation Christmas Tree" and the holiday season, Lick-Wilmerding High School will present its annual Christmas program on Friday, Dec. 13, at the school at 755 Ocean Ave., San Francisco. Students, parents and guests are invited to attend this traditional musical program.

Questionnaire help offered county Veterans

San Mateo County Veterans' Service Officer Floyd D. Granger today offered the help of his office to all veterans or veterans' survivors in the county who have received income questionnaires with their November VA checks.

"It is important that veterans receiving these cards fill them out correctly and in considerable detail," said Granger. "We are prepared to help them do this, having just had 'refresher' courses made available to us by the California Department of Veterans Affairs, Division of Service and Coordination, and the VA."

Many veterans and veterans' survivors receiving VA checks have received income questionnaire cards — specifically, all veterans' parents receiving receiving benefits under the dependency and indemnity compensation program, and all veterans or their widows and children drawing non service connected veterans pension benefits. The cards, says Granger, must be filled out and returned to the VA by the end of January, 1964.

"However," Granger emphasized, "veterans would be advised to get these cards filled out early and sent early in order to avoid the rush."

Purpose of the questionnaires is to determine whether the pensioner's income is within the particular income limitations that apply. Failure to return the card in time can result in the stoppage of pension payments.

The San Mateo County Veterans' Service Office is at the County Office Building in Redwood City.

Don't get skinned when you buy Christmas furs

The status symbol of the young American woman is mink. She has mink can openers in her kitchen. There will be under the tree this Christmas sad furs in beautifully wrapped boxes from loving husbands who opened charge accounts and gave up cigarette money but who did not follow the first step in buying a fur coat — picking a reliable dealer whom he could trust.

The necessity of doing business with a reliable concern cannot be too strongly emphasized. When a reputable merchant sells furs his most important consideration is in the satisfaction of the customer. He uses no high-pressure selling methods and his reputation for fair dealing is his most valuable asset. The merchandise he shows the customer can be accepted with confidence.

Unfortunately, there are a few retailers whose chief interest is to sell merchandise regardless of the methods employed. They use a variety of high-pressure schemes to sell inferior furs at high prices. A method commonly used by such concerns is what is known as "bait advertising." The store advertises or displays in its windows attractive garments at remarkably low prices, with promises of amazing bargains and exaggerated "value" claims, which the advertiser has no intention of selling at the advertised prices.

The type of a retailer that practices "bait advertising" methods usually will use other tricks. One method is for the salesperson to ask a hesitant customer to make a deposit with the false assurance that the deposit will be returned if she or he so desires. Another trick concerns "guarantees." Oral guarantees are of little value as a guarantee is only as reliable as the house back of it. If the gauarantee does not stipulate definite facts and restrictions it is practically worthless. Another method is the use of alluring but false offers of "sample furs" and slightly used coats which have been "posed by actresses" or "used in studio posing." Many times the garments do not have price tags and the price is dependent upon whatever the merchant thinks he can get out of the customer. Often this type of a dealer offers fictitious allowances or trade-ins and raises his own prices to cover the make-believe liberal allowance. Individuals, working with or on the payrolls of tricky furriers, sometimes work in so-called "stuffed flats." These persons advertise as private parties, stating that for various reasons, such as "leaving town," they have a practically new fur coat to sell at a great sacrifice. Furs sold in this manner are usually over priced, misrepresented, cheap and poor quality furs.

The cheapest kinds of furs are sold by so-called "smugglers" and "fur peddlers" who go door-to-door and convince the gullible client that they are receiving furs that are "sacrificed" for a small portion of their real value.

The dealer misrepresenting himself as a "wholesaler" is another scheme. He sells at retail prices represented to be "wholesale" but which are not. Beware of the scheme of credit checks giving fictitious reductions and offers to remodel old fur coats at a low price as "bait" for extensive and costly repairs.

Avoid the tricky storage dealer who fails to provide adquate storage and insurance protection and who overcharges for repairs and tries to "high pressure" you into unnecessary repairs or extra services in order to make up for the "bargain price" storage rate.

The shopper for a fur garment should remember there are four important points in buying good furs: 1. Serviceability. 2. Cost. 3. Style. 4. Purpose.

There is a difference in the serviceability of furs of the same species. Many species of skins are graded 1, 2, 3 and 4 and the quality is indicated by the fullness and texture of hair as compared with peltries of the same kind. There is a difference in the serviceability of skins of different species, even of the same grade as well as other points, which is not dependent upon cost. The most inexpensive rabbit will outwear the expensive chinchilla.

Workmanship, material, wear and care enter into the serviceability of a fur coat. If you have not determined the definite amount you intend to spend for a fur coat, a reliable dealer will gladly show you furs at various prices, pointing out the difference in quality.

If you have a certain amount you desire to spend and you know the fur you want, examine various coats about that price or within reasonable range for comparative purposes. Remember the purpose for which you are buying the coat. Will you be wearing it for light or dress wear or every day and sports wear?

Remember, there are many beautiful furs which cannot, their texture be expected to give good and long wear without exceptional care and regular checkups to detect necessary repair.

Better Business Bureau advises again to deal only with reliable stores where you will get satisfaction and redress, when you are entitled to it.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Mr. Harrah:

I wish to express the appreciation of The Mental Health Association of San Mateo County for your newspaper's publishing the recent series of articles by Mrs. Wick on mental health problems and solutions in the north county area.

You did us a great service in furthering our goals in advancing public knowledge about mental illness. But of greater importance is the valuable community contribution you and your paper made through the distribution of this information.

Sincerely,
Ernest H. Norback
President

Editor:

The recent antics of the County School Trustees have been followed with interest and sadness. It is very disillusioning to find those entrusted with the education of our children devoting their talents to political dodges and to subterfuge. However, it seems to me that this recent activity points up the error in in the method of forming the County Committee. The school boards usually seem deeply committed to their own perpetuation and will therefore attempt — and generally successfully—to appoint Committee members sympathetic to this aim. The possibility, therefore, of getting recommendations for unification of a forward looking nature from the County Committee is negligible ,and the attempt futile, as recent events indicate. The hopeful prospect lies in this, that the State Board and the Legislature will take action when they come to realize the completely negative attitude of the school trustees.

Mr. Tormey is to be commended for his efforts to fight this point of view and to press for unification in this County by High School Districts.

'Operation Santa' hustle and bustle

There is an extraordinary bustle in Daly City these days, because people are getting ready for "Operation Santa Claus," a project in which over 22 groups and numerous individuals participate.

There are the little children who fan out from the various school and recreation facilities, collecting canned goods for the families. One Cub Scout Pack delivers a basket to the Committee every Thanksgiving and Christmas.

Firemen are busy repairing and painting bikes to be given to children. Men are collecting cash contributions from merchants, so that the toys, clothing, and food, can be supplemented when necessary.

Many religious groups are asking their members to contribute as they always have done in the past. Other organizations are getting ready to come down to the fire station to help sort contributions and wrap some gifts.

Nobody knows the names of the people they are helping—these are available to only one man. The Christmas packages are delivered by the Fire Department and some volunteers, and are delivered to addresses only — even these dedicated workers don't know who is getting the gift.

These are a few of the many people who have helped for the past 12 years in making "Operation Santa Claus" a success. To help them, send donations of food, toys or clothing to Daly City Central Fire Station, 157 Lake Merced Blvd. Cash donations may be sent to "Operation Santa Claus," 6454 Mission St.

Child support cases discussed at Lions Club

The problems of getting money from fathers in child support cases was discussed with members of the Daly City-Colma Lions club last Wednesday.

John Juergens, deputy district attorney of San Mateo county said that the problem had been eased with the passage in recent years by all 50 states of reciprocal acts. Under these acts, any state will prosecute a parent for non-support upon request of another state.

"As an example, we handle 15-15 cases per week for other states," he said, and San Mateo county collects and sends out about $5,000 per year to other states, while receiving about $90,000 from them.

Normal procedure is for a mother to file a complaint and have the father arraigned. While this is a criminal action, often the child involved is born out of wedlock and then paternity must be proven, which normally is a civil action, he pointed out.

Juergens also said that sometimes action is taken against the mother when she is employed and is not supporting her child properly.

Lutheran women to install officers

The ladies will also give their Christmas gift to the Church at this meeting, which is to be additional china for the Church. Further donations for this gift may be given to Mrs. Dorothy Greenstrand.

Pastor Kenneth Hansen will give the Bible study for the evening.

The hostesses for the meeting are Mrs. Marion Phelps, Mrs. Harvor Vinson and Mrs. Marilyn Morrison.

The Angels Sing at F. Rivera

Fernando Rivera's Christmas program, presented by the glee clubs, will be held on Monday evening, Dec. 16, at 7:30 p.m.

A program of traditional Christmas and Hanukah music will be presented under the direction of Miss Lauren Abernathy. Along with the glee clubs' presentations, the fourth grade classes will participate in the Christmas program.

The classes of Miss Diane Mack and Mrs. Josephine Corren have each written original choral verses which they will speak. Miss Frances Campbell's class will present a Christmas tree poem.

Instead of the traditional evergreen, Fernando Rivera has a large modern Christmas tree decorated with bright, creative figures made of colored construction paper. The tree and decorations were the work of Miss Linda Paccagnella's art class. The whimsical tree is set up in the school's multi-use room for the enjoyment of the entire student body.

Girls visit nursing school

By RITA FAHRNER

Among the many attending St. Luke's School of Nursing's Open House were five Westmoor girls. Rinice Philips, Lanette Howard, Rita Fahrner, Janice Williams and Cathie McCaffery.

Touring the hospital, the girls saw the new surgery and pediatrics wings, the maternity ward and the nursery, and other parts of the hospital.

Main attraction was the School of Nursing's Exhibition. The 15 exhibits showed many different phases of nursing. Some of the exhibits displayed special equipment, such as that needed for burn cases. Others showed the many services of the hospital. A mock tonsilectomy was performed on a young "probie"; the tonsil; a gumdrop!

Tea was held in the Student Nurse's Lounge following the tour and exhibition. One Westmoorite said "it was a very interesting and informative experience." All of the girls are seriously interested in pursuing a nursing career.

Student rate for Christmas play

Student body card holders will be able to buy tickets for "A Christmas Carol" at 75 cents, it was announced today by Grace Rainsford, ticket manager for the Pacifica Players' second annual performance of Dickens' story in play form.

Tickets may be purchased at several Pacifica outlets, Mrs. Rainsford said. These are Original Pizza No. 1, Vallemar; Linda Mar Liquor Store and Terroll's Children's Shop, both at Linda Mar Shopping Center; and Gee's Chinese Restaurant, Pacific Manor. Students should show their cards when purchasing and when using the tickets at the door. Admission for children under 12 is 50 cents.

"A Christmas Carol," directed by Eugene N. Merwin, is a spectacular stage production of the 120-year-old story of old Scrooge's reconciliation with the Christmas spirit. He reforms from his penury by being shown views of Christmases past, present and yet to come.

Scrooge is being played by Fred Stone. Others in the cost are Ed Langhorne as Marley's Ghost; Thomas Leon, Scrooge's nephew; Arnold Turner, Spirits of Christmases; Nancy Greer as another Christmas Spirit; and many Pacifica children.

The play will be given Friday and Saturday, Dec. 13 and 14 at 8 p.m. On Sunday, Dec. 15, the performance will start at 2 p.m. All will be at the Oddstad Community Center, Crespi Dr. near Barcelona Way, one mile from Highway 1.

Stolen car found

Officer Charles Glass of the Daly City police Dec. 9 recovered a 1963 Ford two-door on the Chinese Cemetery Road. The car, stolen out of Daly City, was 75 per cent stripped down. The owner was notified.

One week left to enter Christmas lighting contest

Residents of San Mateo County are being reminded there is just one more week left to enter their Christmas displays in the contest, being sponsored by the Christmas Lighting Association of California, in cooperation with the Junior Chamber of Commerce for the best decorated and illuminated homes in the county.

All entries should be mailed or brought to Mrs. Edna L. Calhan, 560 Dolphin Dr., Pacifica, Coast Side County Chairman, on or before Monday, Dec. 16.

Entries will be judged by volunteer committees from the Christmas Lighting Association during the hours of 6 p.m. to 10 p.m., Dec. 18 to 22, and the winners announced on Christmas Day.

Prizes will include electric clocks, as well as blue Award of Merit ribbons and red Honorable Mention ribbons, donated by the Christmas Lighting Association.

As pointed out previously, displays need not be elaborate or expensive to win, but will be judged on adherence of the Christmas spirit, originality and general artistic effect. Indoor displays, such as picture windows, if visible from the street, are eligible to compete.

Suggesting the dedication of Christmas lights as a tribute to our late President John F. Kennedy, Dr. Howard McKinley, executive vice president of the Christmas Lighting Association of California, said:

"Whether we have elaborate decorations or a simple candle in the window, let us hope every home will join in sending forth Christmas lights to dispel the darkness this year as a memorial to our late President Kennedy. I can think of no greater tribute to him and to his ideals than to spread the radiance of light, expressing 'Peace on Earth, Good Will to Men' from our homes this blessed Christmas season."

DC youth to be guest at Cal Poly

James Kevin Hoffman, 680 Florence St., Daly City, and a student at Serra High School, has been invited to participate in the fourth annual Engineering Preview on the California State Polytechnic College's campus Dec. 19-20.

Hoffman, with 99 other high school students representing 85 California communities, will be the guest of the Western Air Conditioning Industries Association during a special engineering seminar sponsored by Cal Poly and WACIA.

The participants, all boys and either high school juniors or seniors, were selected by members of the college's engineering faculty from a group of over 400 applicants who were nominated by their science or mathematics teachers.

During the three-day preview they will take part in the analysis of typical engineering problems, solutions by analog and digital computers, and actual test verifications of solutions under the direction of Cal Poly instructor.

They will also be guests at a banquet at which Daniel D. Wile, vice president and chief engineer for Recold Corporation of Los Angeles, will be the guest speaker.

The annual event, according to Dean Hayes, gives selected high school students a brief survey of the many areas in engineering as a basis for consideration as a possible career.
